City Council sets date for hearing on rate increase

The City Council Monday set a date for a public hearing on a rate increase request from See-Mor Cable TV, listed the top priority for state road projects in the city limits and approved the date for opening bids for water treatment bonds.

Cable TV

A public hearing was set for Dec. 11 on a one dollar per month increase in the rates See-Mor Cable TV charges its customers.

If granted, the firm's rates would rise to $6.50 from $5.50.

See-Mor officials provided the council with a consultant's report of its system which showed the firm is losing money.

Road Projects

The council named traffic signals at the Airport Road as the top priority for state road projects within the city limits. The council agreed to provide up to $20,000 in funds for relocation of Airport Road and a water main as part of the project.

The money for the projects comes from federal funds the city was forced to turn over to the state because Sikeston lacked the necessary matching funds.

The state has only $320,000 to spend in the city. If the project runs over that amount, the state will instead choose one or two other projects, which include traffic signals at North Main Street and Tanner Street and storm sewers on South Kingshighway.

The state also asked that Sikeston pay any funds over $320,000, but City Manager Charles Church said the city could not afford to pay for both the relocation of Airport Road and excess funds.

The traffic signal project will include installation of lights, turn lanes and relocation of Airport Road a short distance west to line up with Selma Street.

Relocating the road will cost $12,000. The additional $8,000, to be paid by the Board of Municipal Utilities, will go for relocating a water main.

Bids

Jan. 20 was set as the date for opening bids for $500,000 of water treatment plant bonds. Bidding notices will be mailed to a list of bidders approved by bonding attorneys, including local groups wants to bid.

Bids on construction of the water treatment facility will be opened Dec. 10.

Community Development Funds

The council held a second public hearing on the Community Development Fund application for storm sewers in the west part of town, funds for housing rehabilitation programs and for restrooms and benches in Legion Park.

The city is seeking $400,000 in federal funds.

The city is now in its first year of Community Development Fund program with a housing rehabilitation project.

Only one person appeared during the meeting and he spoke in favor of the restroom proposal.

Liquor Licenses Applications

Liquor license applications were:

Storey's Food Giant, five per cent package beer, tabled.

Safeway Store, five per cent package beer, approved.

Super D Drug Store, five per cent package beer, approved.

Quick Check store, 1801 E. Malone Ave., 3.2. per cent package beer, approved on condition that a separate building be constructed to house 3.2 per cent beer sales.

L. Jimmerson, five per cent consumption beer license, 108 Luther St., and M. Jimmerson, five per cent consumption beer license, 106 Luther, tabled for public hearing on Jan. 5.

Other Action

The council approved the rezoning of property along the east side of First Street between Smith and Wakefield streets from single family to commercial.

The council authorized the Board of Municipal Utilities to hire three firms to assist it in His letter was taken under advisement by the council until a replacement can be found.

City Administrator Don Lloyd told the board that he had received notice from Associated Natural Gas Co. that a request for a rate increase had been filed on Nov. 26. It is anticipated that if allowed by the Public Service Commission, the increase would be about 10.87 per ccent to New Madrid customers. He said the possibility of an accident could not be ruled out and that he could not pin down the reason for the shooting.

Record number of bills filed for state session

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — A record number of bills swamped legislative clerks Monday during the first day in which measures may be filed for the upcoming session of the Genral Assembly.

Everything from taxes to tavern laws, the metric system to studded tires would be up for consideration under the 660 bills submitted in the House and Senate. It's expected that 1,500 measures, about the same number of last session, will be filed for the upcoming session which is to begin Jan. 7.

Only about 200 bills will make it to the desk of Gov. Christopher S. Bond. Last year, just over 300 bills were submitted on what's now considered to be the real opening day of the Missouri Legislature.

The last session was a month and a half longer than the upcoming convention which adjourns April 30.

The State's tax structure — from property taxes to income taxes — would be revised under several of the 300 or so measures introduced in the House.

St. Louis County Democrat Steve Gardner put forth a plan repealing the graduated income tax system and replacing it with a flat 3 per cent rate. His bill would also increase personal deductions for a taxpayer and his spouse from $1,200 to $1,800 and from $400 to $600 for dependents.

Rep. Edwin Dirck, also a St. Louis County Democrat, introduced a bill which would increase the income tax by reducing the amount taxpayers could deduct for federal tax payments. But it would also removed the sales tax on food and drugs.

Rep. Glen Binger, D-Independence, would revamp the circuit breaker law — a measure allowing senior citizens to deduct certain property taxes from their state income tax — by flatly exempting the first $6,000 in assessed valuation from the property tax. For all practical purposes, such a bill would exempt most of Missouri's senior citizens from paying any property tax whatsoever, and under Binger's proposal the state would make up the lost revenue to local governments to the tune of $39.4 million per year.

The strict reporting provisions of the Campaign Practices Act would be relaxed under a bill proposed by Sen. Albert Spradling, D-Cape Girardeau.

His bill would call for the listing of a candidate's investments only if "the fair market value" for them was not paid by the candidate. The Missouri Election Commission, which enforces the campaign law, would also be allowed to relax certain provisions of it if it finds that the law "works an unreasonable hardship" on the candidates.

Other measures introduced Monday would:

—Allow officials to grant witnesses immunity from prosecution in return for testimony before a court or grand jury. Failure to testify once immunity is granted would bring a maximum jail term of 18 months for contempt.

—Call for the compensation of innocent victims of crime up to $10,000.

—Require the metric system to be taught in all state schools and all highway signs erected after Jan. 1, 1977, to display measurements in both the standard system and the metric system.

—Forbid loan companies from discriminating against persons in making loans because of geographic location and require savings and loan firms to make 60 per cent of the loans on homes within the area they are chartered to serve.

—Allow judges to commit persons found to be drug addicts and charged with a crime to the state Deparment of Mental Health for treatment and upon successful completion of treatment place them on a minimum three-year probation.

—Limit the use of or totally outlaw studded snow tires.

—Allow St. Louis County voters to consider the implementation of a 2 per cent sales tax in the county.

—Exempt tuition for elementary and secondary schools from the state income tax.

—Require certain "garage sale" operators to maintain an inventory of "new household items."

—Create a "tenants bill of rights," which would require 5 per cent annual interest on rent deposits, a written agreement o n all rentals for longer than one month and mandatory return of the deposit plus interest within 30 days after the lease is terminated.

—Raise the salaries of lawmakers from $8,400 to $10,800 and increase them every two years thereafter by the percentage raise given other state workers during that period.

—Set up a legal system under which patients with terminal illnesses could refuse any life-sustaining treatment if two independent doctors certify they are terminally ill.

Public Service Commission meetings and the commission's records would be open to the public under the state's "Sunshine Law," if a bill introduced in the Senate would be passed.

An attorney general's opinion issued this fall said that work papers from the state auditor's office should be closed. That decision came after a meeting between auditors and members of the PSS was closed to the press.

—Limit the use of or totally outlaw studded snow tires.

—Allow St. Louis County voters to consider the implementation of a 2 per cent sales tax in the county.

—Exempt tuition for elementary and secondary schools from the state income tax.

—Require certain "garage sale" operators to maintain an inventory of "new household items."

—Create a "tenants bill of rights," which would require 5 per cent annual interest on rent deposits, a written agreement o n all rentals for longer than one month and mandatory return of the deposit plus interest within 30 days after the lease is terminated.

—Raise the salaries of lawmakers from $8,400 to $10,800 and increase them every two years thereafter by the percentage raise given other state workers during that period.

—Set up a legal system under which patients with terminal illnesses could refuse any life-sustaining treatment if two independent doctors certify they are terminally ill.

Public Service Commission meetings and the commission's records would be open to the public under the state's "Sunshine Law," if a bill introduced in the Senate would be passed.

An attorney general's opinion issued this fall said that work papers from the state auditor's office should be closed. That decision came after a meeting between auditors and members of the PSS was closed to the press.

New York City police detective Mary Glatzle has been cited as one of the 10 most outstanding police officers in the country.

"Muggable Mary," as she is nicknamed, has been working for two years as a volunteer decoy member of the NYPD street crime unit. Using a variety of disguises to make herself appear to be an easy prey for muggers, but always followed by a back-up team of other detectives, she has been responsible for no less than 300 felony arrests.

It's stories like this that not only reaffirm our faith in the nation's police but in our judicial system, too. UNIONIZED TYRANNY SOILS NOBLE ORIGIN

The labor union movement would never have gotten anywhere in the United States had it not been for the short-sightedness-some would say, stupidity-of 19th-century and early 20th century employers.

The union movement has been a staunch defender of the free enterprise system (sometimes, it seems, more than many capitalists themselves) and a bastion against communism.

The American worker's productivity is among the highest in the world and the gains he has won through collective bargaining have, on balance, been among the least of all the forces responsible for the inflation that plagues the nation.

To recognize all this, however, is not to say that there is no danger of the pendulum swinging too far to the other side. If some employers could at one time use armed troops to break up a strike, some unions today can hold a figurative gun to the head not only of management but of the public itself.

Just such an analogy was drawn in the recent "capitulation" of the mayor of San Francisco to demands of unionized city workers. The financial plight of New York City is blamed in no small part on excessive gains in wages, not offset by comparable gains in productivity, by municipal workers.

If the strike is no longer considered the weapon of first resort by the older and more mature industrial unions, it is more and more frequently being seized by policemen, firemen, sanitation workers, teachers and others who can hold whole communities hostage until their demands are met.

And if the public in general seems to distrust big business, it is becoming just as wary of big labor—big in the sense of power.

According to a nationwide survey by Opinion Research Corp., sponsored by Business Roundtable, an organization of business executives, 79 per cent of the public believes that the use of union dues to support political candidates should be prohibited and 58 per cent is against unemployment compensation and food stamps for striking workers.

Among union members themselves, according to this survey, 76 per cent oppose the first practice and 54 per cent oppose the second.

Both figures show increases over previous polls. However, remembering the pro-business orientation of those paying for the survey, perhaps a grain of salt should be added to the stew they serve.

Certainly, though, the union movement would seem to have lost touch with its founding ideals when an employer can be forced to hire five workers when only one is needed. This is actually the issue in New York's theater industry, where a strike by musicians threatened a promising Broadway season.

The same kind of situation is reflected on a greater scale in the construction industry, where not only have spiralling wage costs helped price housing out of the reach of millions of Americans but jurisdictional jealousies among unions sometimes reach the level of outright silliness. Strikes have been called, for example, because of disputes over which union installs which fixtures.

At present, a union may not—legally—shut down an entire construction site, but proposed legislation in Congress would permit so-called "common situs" picketing, and lines are being drawn over that issue. Yet the building trades point out that they are only asking for what their industrial brethren have long had, the right to picket and close an entire plant.

Let it be repeated that the history of the union movement is a proud one. If nothing else, it has taught the world something a capitalist like Henry Ford knew instinctively: that if a man is paid a decent wage that enables him to buy the products of his own and other's labor, everyone benefits.

But along with power, and labor today enjoys great power, always comes the potential for abuse of that power. Should the union movement ever forget that truth, the American people—the majority of whom are not members of unions—will eventually find ways to remind it of it.

RETURN OF THE WINDMILL

Suddenly people are taking windmills seriously as a way to relieve pressure on fuels such as oil and coal. The federal government will pour over $1 million into windmill research during fiscal 1974, according to The Wall Street Journal, and at at least 5 American universities have also embarked upon research programs. It has been said that windmills, grouped to form power stations, could provide an important portion of U.S. energy needs.

The big question is what to do when the wind stops blowing. One ingenious citizen has suggested that the windmills be situated astride the lawn on Capitol Hill. "The constant flow of hot air," he remarks, "emanating from the politicians and bureaucrats on how to solve the energy shortage will assure that the windmills never stop." Imagine the consternation of the oil-producing nations as our supply of electricity grew infinitely larger with every passing day! Soon they would beg us to take their oil at any price. The answer to the energy crisis is clear. If we will make use of one of our most abundant natural resources--long-winded politicians--the U.S. can be well on the road to energy self-sufficiency again.

JESUS, THE PERFECT MAN

(Reprinted in response to numerous requests, as written by the late C. P. J. Mooney for The Commercial Appeal of Dec. 22, 1912.)

THERE IS no other character in history like that of Jesus.

As a preacher, as a doer of things, and as a philosopher, no man ever had the sweep and the vision of Jesus.

A human analysis of the human actions of Jesus brings to view a rule of life that is amazing in its perfect detail.

The system of ethics Jesus taught during His earthly sojourn 2,000 years ago was true then, has been true in every century since and will be true forever.

PLATO WAS A great thinker and learned in his age, but his teachings did not stand the test of time. In big things and in little things time and human experience have shown that he erred.

Marcus Aurelius touched the reflective mind of the world, but he was as cold and austere as brown marble.

The doctrine of Confucius gave a great national moral and mental dry rot.

The teachings of Buddha resulted in mental and moral chaos that makes India derelict.

Mohammed offered a system of ethics which was adopted by millions of people. Now their children live in deserts where once there were cities along dry rivers where once there was moisture, and in the shadows of gray, barren hills where once there was greenness.

THOMAS AQUINAS was a profound philosopher, but parts of his system have been abandoned.

Francis of Assisi was Christlike in his saintliness, but in some things he was childish.

Thomas a Kempis, Imitation of Christ is a thing of rare beauty and sympathy, but it is, as its name indicates, only an imitation.

Sir Thomas More's Utopia is yet a dream that cannot be realized.

Lord Bacon writing on chemistry and medicine under the glasses of the man working in a 20th Century laboratory is puerile.

The world's most learned doctors until a hundred and fifty years ago gave dragon's blood and the ground dried tails of lizards and shells of eggs for certain ailments. The great surgeons a hundred years ago bled a man if he were wounded.

Napoleon had the world at his feet for four years, and when he died the world was going on its way as if he had never lived.

JESUS TAUGHT little as to property because He knew there were things of more importance than property. He measured property and life, the body and soul, at their exact relative value. He taught much as to character, because character is of more importance than dollars.

Other men taught us to develop systems of government. Jesus taught so as to perfect the minds of men. Jesus looked to the soul, while other men dwelled on material things.

After the experience of 2,000 years no man can find a flaw in the governmental system as outlined by Jesus.

Czar and kaiser, president and socialist, give to its complete merit their admiration.

No man today, no matter whether he follows the doctrine of Mills, Marx or George as to property, can find a false principle in Jesus' theory of property.

IN THE DUTY of a man to his fellow no sociologist has ever approximated the perfection of the doctrine laid down by Jesus in His Sermon on the Mount.

Not all the investigations of chemists, not all the discoveries of explorers, not all the experiences of rulers, not all the historical facts that go to make up the sum of human knowledge on this day in 1912 are in contradiction to one word uttered or one principle laid down by Jesus.

The human experiences of 2,000 years show that Jesus never made a mistake. Jesus never uttered a doctrine that was true at that time and then became obsolete.

Jesus spoke the truth; He lived the truth, and the truth is eternal.

History has no record of any other man leading a perfect life or doing everything in logical order. Jesus is the only person whose every action and whose every utterance strike a true note in the heart and mind of every man born of woman. He never said a foolish thing, never did a foolish act and never dissembled.

No poet, no dreamer, no philosopher loved humanity with the love that Jesus bore toward all men.

WHO, THEN, was Jesus?

He could not have been merely a man, for there never was a man who had two consecutive thoughts absolute in truthful perfection.

Jesus must have been what Christendom proclaims Him to be—a divine being—or He could not have been what He was. No mind but an infinite mind could have left behind those things which Jesus gave to the world as a heritage.

The first beauty pagenat in Shelby county was held at the Shelbina fairgrounds. It no longer is held. Most towns have a beautiful girl to represent them at formal occasions, such as "Miss Paris," "Miss Monroe City," "Miss Hanniba," etc. We did have a "Miss Missouri," but not for any representing of Shelbina, as proud as we all were of Camilla Crist. We think it is time we chose a "Miss Shelbina," if nothing more than appointment by the mayor. Oh yes, we do have the Chamber of Commerce's "Miss Farmerette."

KILLING SANTA CLAUS

WASHINGTON — A group of CIA people were having coffee out at Langley Headquarters the other morning and discussing the Church report on their covert activities.

They naturally were outraged.

"They're destroying our intelligence capability," one executive said.

"They're wrecking morale," another chimed in.

A third man said, "It's like killing Santa Claus."

"Santa Claus!" their Chief said in horror. "We forgot Santa Claus. What contingency plans do we have for eliminating Santa Claus?"

There was silence in the room. Then one of the men said, "Why Santa Claus?"

"It isn't our job to say 'Why Santa Claus?' We have to have a plan ready in case someone in the White House or the State Department decides Santa has to be terminated with extreme prejudice. What have we got on him?"

"One of our agents at the North Pole says he's planning a sneak attack by reindeer on the night of Dec. 24th."

"How reliable is the source?"

"It comes from an elf who was fired for shoddy workmanship on Barbie Dolls."

"All right, does anyone have any suggestions?"

Someone said, "Why don't we get someone to sprinkle his boots with depilatory powder and then when he puts them on his beard will fall out? This will make him the laughing stock of the world."

"It's worth a try," said the Chief. "What else?"

"How about smearing a chemical on his reins that would make him sick and lose control of his sled in flight?"

"You mean the stuff the plumbers were going to put on Jack Anderson's steering wheel?"

"It could work."

"Does Santa smoke cigars?"

"I don't know. Why do you ask?"

"We have some poison ones left over from the Castro caper."

"It's too complicated. This has to be simple and we can't get involved directly in any way."

"What about putting out a contract on him through the Mafia? We could get Johnny Rossini to take a shot at him when he's making a drop in Chicago. Or Lucky Luchesi could have his boys waiting for him by his chimney in Detroit."

"I'll have to clear that with the Director," the Chief of the section said.

"How about his mail? Have we checked that out?"

"We've got three departments working on it full-time. We've steamed open every letter going out to him."

"Suppose we slipped a ball point pen containing a hypodermic needle with poison on it in one of the letters?"

"He might be wise to it. There has to be some way of getting to him without him knowing about it," the CIA Chief said.

"Wait a minute. I think I've got it. Last year Santa Claus made a stop at a divorcee's house in Alexandria, Va. He stayed about an hour longer than he had to and we taped what went on. It was pretty wild stuff. If the tape ever got out it would destroy the old coot forever."

"So?"

"Why don't we take a page out of the FBI's book. We'll send Santa Claus the tape with an anonymous note. 'There are 23 days until Christmas. There is only one thinb left for you to do. You know what it is . . . .'"

"I like it," said the Chief. "It's clean and yet it's dirty. If that tape doesn't make him jump off the North Pole nothing will."

Zarb Weighs Move Against Big Oil

with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON - Federal energy czar Frank Zarb is carefully considering a dramatic move to break up the giant oil companies, which have a stranglehold on the nation's energy.

The cautious Zarb hasn't decided whether to make such a bold recommendation to President Ford, whose past policies have tended to tilt toward the oil interests.

But a few days ago, Zarb asked Federal Trade Chairman Lewis Engman for data to help him reach his decision. Since Engman may soon have to rule on an antitrust case against eight oil companies, he could furnish only public documents to assist his fellow regulator.

He transmitted to Zarb hundreds of pages of research, which contain stark evidence of how the oil industry reaches out to control natural gas, shale oil, nuclear fuels, coal and even geothermal energy.

Not only do the patricians of petroleum largely, if loosely, control the production of all these fuels, they also determine the flow of energy through the pipelines and transmlission lines.

The FTC data going to Zarb deals with Arco, Ashland, Cities Service, Continental, Exxon, Getty, Gulf, Mobil, Phillips, Shell, Standard of California, Standard of Indiana, Standard of Ohio, Sun, Tenneco, Texaco and other firms.

The concerned Zarb , himself a product of corporate America, has been slow to stand up to Big Oil. He is worried, his friends say, that shattering the industry into dozens of competing firms might simply lead to inefficiency and higher costs.

But Zarb, according to his friends, has felt some of the same frustrations that led almost half the Senate to vote for a bill that would fragment the oil industry.

Like too many other honorable men in the Ford Administration, he is also appalled at the new revelations of payoffs by oil companies to influence congressional votes on oil matters.

Footnote: Asked for comment, a spokesman for Zarb would say only that any request to FTC was an internal matter. An FTC spokesman confirmed that public documents had been sent to the Federal Energy Administration.

SIMON'S CANDIDACY: Treasury Secretary William Simon is quietly testing the vice presidential waters. Sources close to him say he has been sending subtle signals to the White House that he is available as President Ford's running mate.

A high Administration official conceded that "Bill would offer an attractive offset to Ronald Reagan." The theory is that Simon could draw conservative support from Reagan at the Republican convention and, afterward, from Goerge Wallace if he should run as an independent.

Simon is also a favorite of various women's groups, farm organizations and civic groups, which he has visited as a hard-sell pitchman for President Ford's economic policies.

Meanwhile, the blunt- spoken Simon is sitting down with conservative editors and politicians, showing his face where it counts.

DUNNING DIPLOMATS: We recently reported that diplomats have been taking advantage of their immunity from U. S. laws to welsh on debts and to ignore traffic violations.

The story brought a new flood of complaints to our office. The Embassy of Gabon, for example, has left a trail of unpaid debts around Washington, including a $2,000 house rental, $4,000 for mimousine rental and $6,000 for catering., An embassy spokesman said that a change of personnel in the accounting department had caused the problems.

The New Jersey Turnpike Authority, meanwhile, has developed an effective method of dealing with diplomatic traffic offenders. State troopers give them a warning for the first offense. Thereafter, the troopers, though unable to arrest them, escort them off the turnpike.

A spokesman informed us that motorists from 39 countries have been stopped and put off the turnpike.

PROTESTOR FIRED: A federal worker is out of a job because he challenged his elected representative, Sen. Milton Young, R-N. D., to explain why he supported a half-billion- dollar government irrigation project.

He is Dr. Gary Pearson, a mild- mannered, eight- year veteran with the Fish and Wildlife Service. He is known to his colleagues at North Dakota's Northern Prairie Research Center as an excellent, if somewhat eccentric, veterinarian and microbiologist.

On his own time, Pearson did what every good high school civics teacher tells his students to do: he wrote to his elected representative, Senator Young, about a federal irrigation project called the Garrison Diversion Unit.

Indeed, Pearson wrote several letters, which annoyed the Senator. Impatiently, Young complained to the veterinarian's boss, Harvey Nelson, that Pearson was badgering him.

Nelson hastily assured the Senator that Pearson would be transferred out of North Dalota - - and presumably out of the Senator's hair. But Pearson resisted a transfer to farawfay Utah.

Then, despite "excellent" ratings, he was fired. Senator Young acknowledged to us that he was pleased Pearson had been ordered out of the state because he had become "completely unreasonable." The Senator insisted Pearson "must have spent" government time on the Garrison project since he "wrote so many letters" and "went to so many meetings."

On the contrary, the veterinarian fought the Garrison project completely on his own time, and the Senator conceded he had no evidence to contradict this.

State of Leisure: Cashless New York. State Employes 'Work' Shortened Paid Vacation-Studded Year

ALBANY, N.Y. -- Now that New York City dwellers will have to pay as much as 25 per cent more income tax for the privilege of saving the garbage-laden Big Apple from its crawling financial rot, let's calmly look at what ancient political curators call "the Empire State" itself. It's also broke. Its deficit is streaking past $800 million toward the billion mark.

Not all of this financial and political bankruptcy is due to the easy- does -it civil service employes, But they contribute their draining- off share. For example: at least 45 per cent of the state payroll is in "fringe benefits."

And a huge chunk of this is due to paid leaves and other time off. Meaning: hard work, no. Higher pay, yes.

These paid leaves came to $384 million in fiscal year 1974-75. This will be topped during the current fiscal year. And this doesn't include the cost of time off for civil service labor officials, major and minor, paid while on union duties. This comes to an additional $700,000 in state funds annually, a figure so paltry one is almost ashamed to mention it in today's astronomic scheme of things.

The state pays civil service union people for servicing their members; for attending delegate assemblages; executive board meetings, permanent and ad hoc committee sessions; grievance procedures and sitting in on one or two or seven other types of gatherings which escape researchers in the small print of hoary union contracts with the statea.

But back to the empty corral. Mind you, first- year civil service employes get a total of 42 paid days off (including 13 sick days) but not including jury duty and military leave.

The breakdown of these first-year leisure time provisions should fascinate anyone weary at day's end in the private sector.

First there are 13 paid days off -- or just two days short of a three- week paid vacation. Then there are 11 regular paid holidays -- Lincoln's Birthday, Election Day, the whole bit. And there are five personal leave days. Thus the bright employes can weave an 18-day vacation betwixt the regular official holidays. The 18 days, all paid for, of course, are almost a four-week vacation. In the first year, please note.

Now, there also are 13 paid sick leave days. So if one develops a cold during official time off, one can be out, fully paid, for 31 days -- or six weeks off.

Of course, there are legitimate sick days taken. But if a state civil service empooye doesn't sick out during any one year, the time is cumulative up to 180 days. In addition, if the illness is wodrk- related, there is additional leave under the Workmen's Compensation law.

Much of this was piloted through the state legislature by the late Victor Borella, labor adviser to then Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

The total civil service fringe cost during the '74- '75 fiscal year came to $700 million, Add to this the $700,000 which the state gives union officials in the form of paid time off and you find that the leave time -- or paid non-working time -- eats up about half the state's fringe payments. Or about one-half the zooming current deficit. Remember, there are heavy administrative costs, too, in handling fringes.

Thus there's the need for overstaffing, to make up for the tens of thousands always on some sort of leave or holiday. Also about 40 per cent of the state's empooyes work (and for some that's a euphemism) a 37 ½ hour week. This is costly. I'm told by state employe relations director Don Wollett (ironic name for a cashless state) that normalizing the work week to 40 hours for all would save millions of dollars. There's another gimmick here. Overtime pay isn't involved. The civil service people get compensatory time off. So this leaves even fewer workers on the job. Which is the basis for one high state officials.s charge that New York has a minimum of 20,000 too many civil service empooyes.

This isn't merely a New York malaise. Over in neighboring Connecticut, lady Gov. Ella Grasso has turned from insouciant liberal to nitty- gritty realist. She faces the same crisis. And she says:

"There are no mirrors, no rollovers, no fiscal gimmicks to postpone reality."

Well, the day of accounting and atonement and the bottom line is here. The citizenry soon will pay – higher taxes. And not only for the lack of productivity inside the civil service, according to knowledgeable officials, but for the permissive Rockefeller administration. His Albany Mall, which many say is more like a mausoleum, cost justo over $1 billion. And the veteran state comptroller Arthur Levitt tells me that "Nelson's follies cost half a billion additional in loans and interest service charges."

So there's not much of an empire for anyone in this state. Now it isn't a matter just of feath and taxes but of bread and taxes. Is the middle class really so expendable?

Among union members themselves, according to this survey, 76 per cent oppose the first practice and 54 per cent oppose the second.

Both figures show increases over previous polls. However, remembering the pro-business orientation of those paying for the survey, perhaps a grain of salt should be added to the stew they serve.

Certainly, though, the union movement would seem to have lost touch with its founding ideals when an employer can be forced to hire five workers when only one is needed. This is actually the issue in New York's theater industry, where a strike by musicians threatened a promising Broadway season.

The same kind of situation is reflected on a greater scale in the construction industry, where not only have spiralling wage costs helped price housing out of the reach of millions of Americans but jurisdictional jealousies among unions sometimes reach the level of outright silliness. Strikes have been called, for example, because of disputes over which union installs which fixtures.

At present, a union may not—legally—shut down an entire construction site, but proposed legislation in Congress would permit so-called "common situs" picketing, and lines are being drawn over that issue. Yet the building trades point out that they are only asking for what their industrial brethren have long had, the right to picket and close an entire plant.

Let it be repeated that the history of the union movement is a proud one. If nothing else, it has taught the world something a capitalist like Henry Ford knew instinctively: that if a man is paid a decent wage that enables him to buy the products of his own and other's labor, everyone benefits.

But along with power, and labor today enjoys great power, always comes the potential for abuse of that power. Should the union movement ever forget that truth, the American people—the majority of whom are not members of unions—will eventually find ways to remind it of it.

RETURN OF THE WINDMILL

Suddenly people are taking windmills seriously as a way to relieve pressure on fuels such as oil and coal. The federal government will pour over $1 million into windmill research during fiscal 1974, according to The Wall Street Journal, and at at least 5 American universities have also embarked upon research programs. It has been said that windmills, grouped to form power stations, could provide an important portion of U.S. energy needs.

The big question is what to do when the wind stops blowing. One ingenious citizen has suggested that the windmills be situated astride the lawn on Capitol Hill. "The constant flow of hot air," he remarks, "emanating from the politicians and bureaucrats on how to solve the energy shortage will assure that the windmills never stop." Imagine the consternation of the oil-producing nations as our supply of electricity grew infinitely larger with every passing day! Soon they would beg us to take their oil at any price. The answer to the energy crisis is clear. If we will make use of one of our most abundant natural resources--long-winded politicians--the U.S. can be well on the road to energy self-sufficiency again.

JESUS, THE PERFECT MAN

(Reprinted in response to numerous requests, as written by the late C. P. J. Mooney for The Commercial Appeal of Dec. 22, 1912.)

THERE IS no other character in history like that of Jesus.

As a preacher, as a doer of things, and as a philosopher, no man ever had the sweep and the vision of Jesus.

A human analysis of the human actions of Jesus brings to view a rule of life that is amazing in its perfect detail.

The system of ethics Jesus taught during His earthly sojourn 2,000 years ago was true then, has been true in every century since and will be true forever.

PLATO WAS A great thinker and learned in his age, but his teachings did not stand the test of time. In big things and in little things time and human experience have shown that he erred.

Marcus Aurelius touched the reflective mind of the world, but he was as cold and austere as brown marble.

The doctrine of Confucius gave a great national moral and mental dry rot.

The teachings of Buddha resulted in mental and moral chaos that makes India derelict.

Mohammed offered a system of ethics which was adopted by millions of people. Now their children live in deserts where once there were cities along dry rivers where once there was moisture, and in the shadows of gray, barren hills where once there was greenness.

THOMAS AQUINAS was a profound philosopher, but parts of his system have been abandoned.

Francis of Assisi was Christlike in his saintliness, but in some things he was childish.

Thomas a Kempis, Imitation of Christ is a thing of rare beauty and sympathy, but it is, as its name indicates, only an imitation.

Sir Thomas More's Utopia is yet a dream that cannot be realized.

Lord Bacon writing on chemistry and medicine under the glasses of the man working in a 20th Century laboratory is puerile.

The world's most learned doctors until a hundred and fifty years ago gave dragon's blood and the ground dried tails of lizards and shells of eggs for certain ailments. The great surgeons a hundred years ago bled a man if he were wounded.

Napoleon had the world at his feet for four years, and when he died the world was going on its way as if he had never lived.

JESUS TAUGHT little as to property because He knew there were things of more importance than property. He measured property and life, the body and soul, at their exact relative value. He taught much as to character, because character is of more importance than dollars.

Other men taught us to develop systems of government. Jesus taught so as to perfect the minds of men. Jesus looked to the soul, while other men dwelled on material things.

After the experience of 2,000 years no man can find a flaw in the governmental system as outlined by Jesus.

Czar and kaiser, president and socialist, give to its complete merit their admiration.

No man today, no matter whether he follows the doctrine of Mills, Marx or George as to property, can find a false principle in Jesus' theory of property.

IN THE DUTY of a man to his fellow no sociologist has ever approximated the perfection of the doctrine laid down by Jesus in His Sermon on the Mount.

Not all the investigations of chemists, not all the discoveries of explorers, not all the experiences of rulers, not all the historical facts that go to make up the sum of human knowledge on this day in 1912 are in contradiction to one word uttered or one principle laid down by Jesus.

The human experiences of 2,000 years show that Jesus never made a mistake. Jesus never uttered a doctrine that was true at that time and then became obsolete.

Jesus spoke the truth; He lived the truth, and the truth is eternal.

History has no record of any other man leading a perfect life or doing everything in logical order. Jesus is the only person whose every action and whose every utterance strike a true note in the heart and mind of every man born of woman. He never said a foolish thing, never did a foolish act and never dissembled.

No poet, no dreamer, no philosopher loved humanity with the love that Jesus bore toward all men.

WHO, THEN, was Jesus?

He could not have been merely a man, for there never was a man who had two consecutive thoughts absolute in truthful perfection.

Jesus must have been what Christendom proclaims Him to be—a divine being—or He could not have been what He was. No mind but an infinite mind could have left behind those things which Jesus gave to the world as a heritage.

OFFICIAL WELCOMER

The first beauty pagenat in Shelby county was held at the Shelbina fairgrounds. It no longer is held. Most towns have a beautiful girl to represent them at formal occasions, such as "Miss Paris," "Miss Monroe City," "Miss Hanniba," etc. We did have a "Miss Missouri," but not for any representing of Shelbina, as proud as we all were of Camilla Crist. We think it is time we chose a "Miss Shelbina," if nothing more than appointment by the mayor. Oh yes, we do have the Chamber of Commerce's "Miss Farmerette."

KILLING SANTA CLAUS

WASHINGTON — A group of CIA people were having coffee out at Langley Headquarters the other morning and discussing the Church report on their covert activities.

They naturally were outraged.

"They're destroying our intelligence capability," one executive said.

"They're wrecking morale," another chimed in.

A third man said, "It's like killing Santa Claus."

"Santa Claus!" their Chief said in horror. "We forgot Santa Claus. What contingency plans do we have for eliminating Santa Claus?"

There was silence in the room. Then one of the men said, "Why Santa Claus?"

"It isn't our job to say 'Why Santa Claus?' We have to have a plan ready in case someone in the White House or the State Department decides Santa has to be terminated with extreme prejudice. What have we got on him?"

"One of our agents at the North Pole says he's planning a sneak attack by reindeer on the night of Dec. 24th."

"How reliable is the source?"

"It comes from an elf who was fired for shoddy workmanship on Barbie Dolls."

"All right, does anyone have any suggestions?"

Someone said, "Why don't we get someone to sprinkle his boots with depilatory powder and then when he puts them on his beard will fall out? This will make him the laughing stock of the world."

"It's worth a try," said the Chief. "What else?"

"How about smearing a chemical on his reins that would make him sick and lose control of his sled in flight?"

"You mean the stuff the plumbers were going to put on Jack Anderson's steering wheel?"

"It could work."

"Does Santa smoke cigars?"

"I don't know. Why do you ask?"

"We have some poison ones left over from the Castro caper."

"It's too complicated. This has to be simple and we can't get involved directly in any way."

"What about putting out a contract on him through the Mafia? We could get Johnny Rossini to take a shot at him when he's making a drop in Chicago. Or Lucky Luchesi could have his boys waiting for him by his chimney in Detroit."

"I'll have to clear that with the Director," the Chief of the section said.

"How about his mail? Have we checked that out?"

"We've got three departments working on it full-time. We've steamed open every letter going out to him."

"Suppose we slipped a ball point pen containing a hypodermic needle with poison on it in one of the letters?"

"He might be wise to it. There has to be some way of getting to him without him knowing about it," the CIA Chief said.

"Wait a minute. I think I've got it. Last year Santa Claus made a stop at a divorcee's house in Alexandria, Va. He stayed about an hour longer than he had to and we taped what went on. It was pretty wild stuff. If the tape ever got out it would destroy the old coot forever."

"So?"

"Why don't we take a page out of the FBI's book. We'll send Santa Claus the tape with an anonymous note. 'There are 23 days until Christmas. There is only one thinb left for you to do. You know what it is . . . .'"

"I like it," said the Chief. "It's clean and yet it's dirty. If that tape doesn't make him jump off the North Pole nothing will."

Zarb Weighs Move Against Big Oil

with Les Whitten

WASHINGTON - Federal energy czar Frank Zarb is carefully considering a dramatic move to break up the giant oil companies, which have a stranglehold on the nation's energy.

The cautious Zarb hasn't decided whether to make such a bold recommendation to President Ford, whose past policies have tended to tilt toward the oil interests.

But a few days ago, Zarb asked Federal Trade Chairman Lewis Engman for data to help him reach his decision. Since Engman may soon have to rule on an antitrust case against eight oil companies, he could furnish only public documents to assist his fellow regulator.

He transmitted to Zarb hundreds of pages of research, which contain stark evidence of how the oil industry reaches out to control natural gas, shale oil, nuclear fuels, coal and even geothermal energy.

Not only do the patricians of petroleum largely, if loosely, control the production of all these fuels, they also determine the flow of energy through the pipelines and transmlission lines.

The FTC data going to Zarb deals with Arco, Ashland, Cities Service, Continental, Exxon, Getty, Gulf, Mobil, Phillips, Shell, Standard of California, Standard of Indiana, Standard of Ohio, Sun, Tenneco, Texaco and other firms.

The concerned Zarb , himself a product of corporate America, has been slow to stand up to Big Oil. He is worried, his friends say, that shattering the industry into dozens of competing firms might simply lead to inefficiency and higher costs.

But Zarb, according to his friends, has felt some of the same frustrations that led almost half the Senate to vote for a bill that would fragment the oil industry.

Like too many other honorable men in the Ford Administration, he is also appalled at the new revelations of payoffs by oil companies to influence congressional votes on oil matters.

Footnote: Asked for comment, a spokesman for Zarb would say only that any request to FTC was an internal matter. An FTC spokesman confirmed that public documents had been sent to the Federal Energy Administration.

SIMON'S CANDIDACY: Treasury Secretary William Simon is quietly testing the vice presidential waters. Sources close to him say he has been sending subtle signals to the White House that he is available as President Ford's running mate.

A high Administration official conceded that "Bill would offer an attractive offset to Ronald Reagan." The theory is that Simon could draw conservative support from Reagan at the Republican convention and, afterward, from Goerge Wallace if he should run as an independent.

Simon is also a favorite of various women's groups, farm organizations and civic groups, which he has visited as a hard-sell pitchman for President Ford's economic policies.

Meanwhile, the blunt- spoken Simon is sitting down with conservative editors and politicians, showing his face where it counts.

DUNNING DIPLOMATS: We recently reported that diplomats have been taking advantage of their immunity from U. S. laws to welsh on debts and to ignore traffic violations.

The story brought a new flood of complaints to our office. The Embassy of Gabon, for example, has left a trail of unpaid debts around Washington, including a $2,000 house rental, $4,000 for mimousine rental and $6,000 for catering., An embassy spokesman said that a change of personnel in the accounting department had caused the problems.

The New Jersey Turnpike Authority, meanwhile, has developed an effective method of dealing with diplomatic traffic offenders. State troopers give them a warning for the first offense. Thereafter, the troopers, though unable to arrest them, escort them off the turnpike.

A spokesman informed us that motorists from 39 countries have been stopped and put off the turnpike.

PROTESTOR FIRED: A federal worker is out of a job because he challenged his elected representative, Sen. Milton Young, R-N. D., to explain why he supported a half-billion- dollar government irrigation project.

He is Dr. Gary Pearson, a mild- mannered, eight- year veteran with the Fish and Wildlife Service. He is known to his colleagues at North Dakota's Northern Prairie Research Center as an excellent, if somewhat eccentric, veterinarian and microbiologist.

On his own time, Pearson did what every good high school civics teacher tells his students to do: he wrote to his elected representative, Senator Young, about a federal irrigation project called the Garrison Diversion Unit.

Indeed, Pearson wrote several letters, which annoyed the Senator. Impatiently, Young complained to the veterinarian's boss, Harvey Nelson, that Pearson was badgering him.

Nelson hastily assured the Senator that Pearson would be transferred out of North Dalota - - and presumably out of the Senator's hair. But Pearson resisted a transfer to farawfay Utah.

Then, despite "excellent" ratings, he was fired. Senator Young acknowledged to us that he was pleased Pearson had been ordered out of the state because he had become "completely unreasonable." The Senator insisted Pearson "must have spent" government time on the Garrison project since he "wrote so many letters" and "went to so many meetings."

On the contrary, the veterinarian fought the Garrison project completely on his own time, and the Senator conceded he had no evidence to contradict this.

State of Leisure: Cashless New York State Employes 'Work' Shortened Paid Vacation-Studded Year

ALBANY, N.Y. – Now that New York City dwellers will have to pay as much as 25 per cent more income tax for the privilege of saving the garbage-laden Big Apple from its crawling financial rot, let's calmly look at what ancient political curators call "the Empire State" itself. It's also broke. Its deficit is streaking past $800 million toward the billion mark.

Not all of this financial and political bankruptcy is due to the easy- does -it civil service employes, But they contribute their draining- off share. For example: at least 45 per cent of the state payroll is in "fringe benefits."

And a huge chunk of this is due to paid leaves and other time off. Meaning: hard work, no. Higher pay, yes.

These paid leaves came to $384 million in fiscal year 1974-75. This will be topped during the current fiscal year. And this doesn't include the cost of time off for civil service labor officials, major and minor, paid while on union duties. This comes to an additional $700,000 in state funds annually, a figure so paltry one is almost ashamed to mention it in today's astronomic scheme of things.

The state pays civil service union people for servicing their members; for attending delegate assemblages; executive board meetings, permanent and ad hoc committee sessions; grievance procedures and sitting in on one or two or seven other types of gatherings which escape researchers in the small print of hoary union contracts with the statea.

But back to the empty corral. Mind you, first- year civil service employes get a total of 42 paid days off (including 13 sick days) but not including jury duty and military leave.

The breakdown of these first-year leisure time provisions should fascinate anyone weary at day's end in the private sector.

First there are 13 paid days off -- or just two days short of a three- week paid vacation. Then there are 11 regular paid holidays -- Lincoln's Birthday, Election Day, the whole bit. And there are five personal leave days. Thus the bright employes can weave an 18-day vacation betwixt the regular official holidays. The 18 days, all paid for, of course, are almost a four-week vacation. In the first year, please note.

Now, there also are 13 paid sick leave days. So if one develops a cold during official time off, one can be out, fully paid, for 31 days – or six weeks off.

Of course, there are legitimate sick days taken. But if a state civil service empooye doesn't sick out during any one year, the time is cumulative up to 180 days. In addition, if the illness is wodrk- related, there is additional leave under the Workmen's Compensation law.

Much of this was piloted through the state legislature by the late Victor Borella, labor adviser to then Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

The total civil service fringe cost during the '74- '75 fiscal year came to $700 million, Add to this the $700,000 which the state gives union officials in the form of paid time off and you find that the leave time -- or paid non-working time -- eats up about half the state's fringe payments. Or about one-half the zooming current deficit. Remember, there are heavy administrative costs, too, in handling fringes.

Thus there's the need for over-staffing, to make up for the tens of thousands always on some sort of leave or holiday. Also about 40 per cent of the state's empooyes work (and for some that's a euphemism) a 37 ½ hour week. This is costly. I'm told by state employe relations director Don Wollett (ironic name for a cashless state) that normalizing the work week to 40 hours for all would save millions of dollars. There's another gimmick here. Overtime pay isn't involved. The civil service people get compensatory time off. So this leaves even fewer workers on the job. Which is the basis for one high state officials.s charge that New York has a minimum of 20,000 too many civil service empooyes.

This isn't merely a New York malaise. Over in neighboring Connecticut, lady Gov. Ella Grasso has turned from insouciant liberal to nitty- gritty realist. She faces the same crisis. And she says:

"There are no mirrors, no rollovers, no fiscal gimmicks to postpone reality."

Well, the day of accounting and atonement and the bottom line is here. The citizenry soon will pay – higher taxes. And not only for the lack of productivity inside the civil service, according to knowledgeable officials, but for the permissive Rockefeller administration. His Albany Mall, which many say is more like a mausoleum, cost justo over $1 billion. And the veteran state comptroller Arthur Levitt tells me that "Nelson's follies cost half a billion additional in loans and interest service charges."

So there's not much of an empire for anyone in this state. Now it isn't a matter just of feath and taxes but of bread and taxes. Is the middle class really so expendable?

Woman mayor succeeds black

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bobbie Sterne has been sworn in as Cincinnati's first regularly elected woman mayor, succeeding Theodore Berry, the city's first black mayor.

Well status reported

SCOTT CITY — Engineer Bob Harrison Monday night reported to the City Council on the status of work on a new water well.

Harrison told the council that the new well should be in operation within two weeks and that a contactor, which disperses clorine into the water after 100 gallons are used, is all that needs to be added.

The contactor is on order, Harrison said, and delivery is expected within a week.

Also reporting on the problem of the city's number two well, he said the pump would need to be replaced.

At the present time the city is hooked up to the city of Illmo for water supply, which is why the water pressure within the city is low.

The new well, when in operation, will be able to supply the amount of water equal to what the two wells now produce, Harrison said.

Approval was given to take bids for repair or replacement of the number two well pump.

Harrison also reported finding a used 100,000 gallon water storage tank in Memphis, Tenn.

The tank, which would stand 100 feet in the air, would be newly painted inside and out and have a 12-year, written guarantee. It could be purchased by the city at a cost of $59,000, installed, Harrison said. However, according to Harrison, this does not include a concrete foundation, which would be needed, eistimated to cost $2,500.

The council authorized Harrison to contact the supplier and make arrangements for a delegation of the council to inspect the tank in Memphis Saturday.

Mayor Jim Cauble said he received word from City Attorney Tom Arnold that the city would not be obligated to pave Susan Street, at no costs to the residents, which had been said would be done by a different administration in November of 1972.

The letter stated that there was no binding obligation to the city.

A resolution was passed by the council to draw an ordinance establishing a rate of $1.50 per running foot to residents for paving of any new street or existing street, which has never been paved.

It was decided that the residents of Susan Street would be charged at this rate for the paving to be done.

A resolution was also passed that no bills be sent for paving until the ordinance is passed and a review of paving bills for the past five years can be conducted.

Cauble also reported that as of Nov. 28 the city is in the flood insurance program.

In other business it was decided to have the police department to enforce the 10-minute time limit that trains may block crossings. Also for summonses to be issued for illegal parking on Main Street near the donut shop. It was reported that when persons pull into the donut shop they are not always completely off the highway.

Trucks collide

HOWARDVILLE — The drivers of a gasoline tanker truck and a pickup truck escaped injuries in a collision at 10 a.m. Monday on Highway 61 near the Howardville interchange incline approach.

The accident reportedly occurred when a pickup truck pulling a boat, driven north on Highway 61 by Jack Akins of New Madrid, crossed the center line and struck a southbound gas truck owned by Reed Oil Co. of Doniphan and driven by Alvin Ensz of Doniphan.

The tanker tgruck, which overturned on its side, was prevented from plunging off the incline by only the rear wheels and Akins' truck was flipped upside down on the highway.

About 3,500 gallons of the 8,000 gallons of gas in the tanker truck leaked out and the New Madrid fire truck was called to stand by as a precautionary measure.

It took nearly five hours to clear the scene and to pump the remaining 4,500 gallons of gas into another truck.

Trucks collide

HOWARDVILLE — The drivers of a gasoline tanker truck and a pickup truck escaped injuries in a collision at 10 a.m. Monday on Highway 61 near the Howardville interchange incline approach.

The accident reportedly occurred when a pickup truck pulling a boat, driven north on Highway 61 by Jack Akins of New Madrid, crossed the center line and struck a southbound gas truck owned by Reed Oil Co. of Doniphan and driven by Alvin Ensz of Doniphan.

The tanker tgruck, which overturned on its side, was prevented from plunging off the incline by only the rear wheels and Akins' truck was flipped upside down on the highway.

About 3,500 gallons of the 8,000 gallons of gas in the tanker truck leaked out and the New Madrid fire truck was called to stand by as a precautionary measure.

Baggy pants, fanny wraps this spring's fashion looks

NEW YORK (AP)—Layering, Oriental designs, baggy pants and blouson tops are among the fashion items popping up for spring.

Mechanics suits and overalls, blazers, culottes and jumpsuits also were popular with designers who held their fall showings here over the last several weeks.

And don't forget the "fanny wrap." Yes, the fanny wrap. It consists of a scarf, shawl, sash or other piece of fabric tied at the waist or hip and covering or "wrapping" the derriere.

In sportswear, clothes were oriented toward work as well as play. Carol Horn's Habitat, for example, featured a navy waiter's jacket and skirt. She also presented culottes worn with a shirt jacket.

Scott Barrie also did much with culottes, designing jumpsuits as well as dresses. One, a gray cotton over-the-knee culotte dress was worn with a Moroccan striped jacket. Another, a culotte jumpsuit, was shown with a sash hanging from one shoulder and loosely fitted about the waist.

Barrie also brought back something not seen in a long time: Bermuda shorts. Halston, with his penchant for Ultrasuede, used the synthetic fabric in another design popular in the 1950s: pedal pushers.

Work and day clothes had clean, tailored lines, with lots of layering. Bill Blass favored hand-crocheted vests and pull overs to be worn with silk suits. Kasper in his collection for Joan Leslie showed dresses side-slit over underskirts. He also showed tunics over pants as well as skirts.

Ann Klein's orange tie-front linen jacket was sleek over white linen pants. Cathy Hardwick 'n' Friends presented a dirndl styled dress in knit.

Evening wear for spring is bare and sexy with lots of shoulders and glimpses of sides, midriffs and thighs.

One of the most popular designs was the evening gown with a drawstring ribbon or sash across the bust. One-shoulder designs also were popular, some with roomy, blouson tops, such as Halston's small dotted gown.

Bill Blass and Scott Barrie used the tunic to dress up a gown. Blass showed a hand painted tunic over crepe pants. Barrie designed one in chiffon, worn over a straight matte jersey shift.

A fabric popular with Geoffrey Beene was hammered satin, which he used for evening tops, giving them a somewhat shiny, metallic look.

The first newspaper to achieve a circulation of one million was "Le Petit Journal," published in Paris, which reached this figure in 1886.

Keep postage costs down this Christmas

Although first class postage is expected to increase in cost by Christmas, there are still ways to keep postage costs down when mailing cards and packages, according to Virginia Knauer, special assistant to the president and director of the Office of Consumer Affairs in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

When sending packages, use lightweight wrapping and packing materials—such as compressed tissue paper, cloth, expanded plastic foam or shredded paper—and a box that is slightly larger than its contents. An oversized box costs more to mail, and there is the chance that fragile items will move around inside and break.

If the package contains books, send it at the low-cost book rate. These packages should be marked "special fourth-class rate, books."

You can send packages to servicemen overseas by two inexpensive methods: SAM (Space Available Mail) or PAL (Parcel Air Lift). SAM sends packages by surface transportation to the East or West Coast and then flies them to their destination as space becomes available.

PAL, on the other hand, sends packages by air all the way to their destination. The rates for both services are very inexpensive: SAM costs only the parcel-post rate while PAl charges the parcel-post rate plus an additional dollar. The weight limit on SAM packages is 15 pounds; on PAl, 30 pounds.

Whenever you send the package, if you decide to insure it, only insure it for its real value. In the case of loss or damage, insurance is paid on the actual value of the contents, not the declared value. Also, it is a good idea to keep receipts showing the prices paid for the article sent in the package. This will help speed up the processing of an insurance claim if the package is lost or stolen or if the contents are broken.

Whenever you send a package, place your address and the receiver's address inside and outside the package. If the package winds up in a dead-letter office, because the outside address is unreadable, postal authorities will open the package and then mail it if ther is an address inside.

With letters going abroad, you save money if you write them on light-weight postage-paid "aerogramme" stationery that folds to form its own envelope. This stationery is available at your local post office.

Household hints

Thoroughly drain potatoes before deep-fat frying them. Excessive moisture in food being cooked in deep fat helps break it down and shortens its frying life. Excessive moisture also makes fat foam too much and there's a danger of it boiling over.

Woman marks 99th birthday

Mrs. Ada Hall will celebrate her 99th birthday today at the Sikeston Convalescent Center. On this same day in 1876, Mrs. Hall was born in Scott Hill, Tenn.

She was married for a second time to Taylor Hall on Sept. 11, 1911 in Lake County, Tenn. The Halls moved to East Prairie in 1928 and farmed. Hall died two months ago.

Mrs. Hall has two living sons: The Rev. G. Thomas of Chattanooga, Tenn. and the Rev. C. B. Thomas of Poplar Bluff; one stepson; one stepdaughter; and two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Man claims he can tell if a woman is virginal

Dear Anna Bananas: Recently a young woman wrote that she was about to marry the man of her dreams and she needed to know something. During her freshman year in college she fall madly in love with a football player and thought their romance would surely end in marriage. She gave herself to him and then he dropped her.

Now, it seems she is about to marry Prince Charming himself, and wants to know if it is possible for a man to tell for sure whether his bride is virgin. You told her "no."

If the answer is "no," why, pray tell, is a Japanese doctor in California making a small fortune sewing in phony hymens made of sheep tissue for deflowered girls who want to present themselves as 100 per cent pure.. Sign me -- No Dummy Here

Dear Dum: What Japanese doctor? Never heard of him. That doesn't mean, of course, that he doesn't exist. There are enough wiggy ladies around so that any scheme, no matter how bizarre, would surely have some takers.

I said "no" because her question contained the words "for sure."

Sometimes a man CAN tell, but not always. I'd rather see a hundred women get away with the act than have one poor, innocent girl unjustly branded by a tyrant who would throw it up to her for the rest of her life.

Dear Ann Landers: I am married to a wonderful man and wouldn't hurt him for the world. I get along reasonably well with his mother and make every effort not to rock the boat.

My mother-in- law feels very much at home in our place, which I don't mind. When she wants something, however, she never bothers to ask. She proceeds to search in the kitchen cabinets, refrigerator, etc. Although I don't like it, I keep quiet and look the other way.

Yesterday she was going through my desk looking for a paper clip. Naturally I keep private correspondence and bills in the desk. Maybe it was my imagination but she appeared to be snooping.

My mother-in-law has offered to baby sit several times but I've never taken her up on it, even though it would be very handy. I'm reluctant to leave her in our house alone because I have visions of her rummaging through my closets, drawers and correspondence.

My husband says we have nothing to hide, which is true. Yet I feel uncomfortable. What would you do? -- Quandaried In Baltimore

Dear Q in B: I'd clean out the closets and straighten the drawers and cabinets so they could bear examination by anyone. I would then gather all bills and private correspondence and put them under lock and key whenever the Inspector General came over. End of problem -- no hurt feelings, Grandma gets the pleasure of sitting, and you get the convenience.

Dear Ann Landers: Something is bothering me. It seems that whenever I go to a football game someone next to me has a radio going. The idiot is listening to the game we are watching.

It annoys the hell out of me to hear an announcer describing the game and putting his own interpretation on every play. Also, I loathe the commercials.

Next these lunatics will be bringing portable TV sets to watch instant replays. I think the radio nuts who want to listen to the game on the radio should bring earphones. What do you say? -- Rights Trampled On

Dear Rights: I agree -- but your only defense is to move.

Corps will not build weir

CHARLESTON — There is no chance at all that the Army Corps of Engineers will consider buying land, constructing a weir and creating a permanent fishing lake east of Route N north of Charleston, according to local drainage district officials.

A news story last week indicated that local conservation interests still hope to persuade the Army Corps of Engineers to reconsider an environmental quality plan as an alternative to the "recommended" plan for the Big Lake basin pumping station at Drinkwater Sewer.

However, officials of the drainage district said they fear that efforts to pressure the Corps into considering the recreation plan would merely result in cancellation of the entire project.

"We are on the 'highest priority' list of the Mississippi River Commission," said one official. "But the federal cost of this project cannot go over $2 million, and there is no way at present to raise the $441,000 local share that would be needed to build the dam and create the small lake.

"We need to show the Corps of Engineers that everyone is behind the pumping station plan, just like everyone got behind the plan for the St. John's proposal last year. The public hearing on that larger project showed almost unanimous local support for the plan, and the engineers are proceeding with the project.

"The public hearing on the Big Lake pumping station is Dec. 11 at 7 p.m. at the courthouse in Charleston. If there is any opposition from recreation groups, we are afraid there will be no pump," the official added.

The drainage district representative said it might be possible in the future to develop a recreation area in the lower Big Lake area, "but let's get the pumping station first, so we can end the yearly flooding of farm land in the Big Lake watershed.

"Right now," he added, "our attorney tells us that damming the ditch in any way would be changing our original plan of reclamation, and we would have to go through Circuit Court to get the plan changed before any action could be taken on the recreation proposal."

The spokesman added that the drainage district board is glad to cooperate in any way possible with local hunters and sportsmen, "but we can't afford to lose this $2 million project."

Assuming there is no delay due to opposition at the hearing Dec. 11, the spokesman said the Corps of Engineers has indicated that construction on the pumping station could begin in 1976.

Fire truck body purchased okayed

DEXTER — Purchase of a fire truck body from Ozark Fire Co. of Springfield at a cost of $38,433 was approved Monday night by the City Council at the recommendation of Firechief Al Banken.

The only other bid submitted was by John Bean Co. of Tipton, Ind. for $38,748. When bids were opened in November, Banken was asked to study them and make his recommendation.

He told the council Monday night that the bids were not as close as they first appeared.

The Ozark bid included equipment other than the body itself, such as hoses and nozzles, but the Bean bid did not. Cost of the of the extra equipment would amount to almost $9,000.

The council also approved the purchase of communication equipment for the fire department.

Total cost of the new truck, including the body, a chassis from City Motor Sales of Dexter and the communication equipment will be about $57,000.

Banken told the council he will personally see to it that the equipment is delivered to the city.

The council decided to give each city employe a Christmas bonus of $25 and to cover the parking meters in the city before Christmas.

The meters will be covered starting Tuesday at the request of city merchants. Mayor Willis Conner said this has become a tradition in the city.

Lawrence Reeves, the meter reader during this time, has been assigned by Chief James Teeters to patrol the stores in town.

Teeters said Reeves will be in and out of the stores and on the streets as a deterrent to crime during the Christmas season.

At the recommendation of the state highway department the city passed an ordinance to forbid parking on both sides of business Highway 60 and along a two-block area from Mulberry to Locust streets.

The department told the city in a letter that it will pay the costs of putting up the no parking signs.

Alderman Jack Smarr, chairman of the insurance committee, told the council that the committee has studied bids for insurance for the city and requested a meeting with city employe to explain the pros and cons of each.

At Smarr's recommendation, the council passed a resolution to adopt the program recommended by the committee based on the wishes of the majority of city employes.

A meeting with the employes was set at 6 p.m. Friday in the city administration building.

In other business Conner told the council that new hangars are needed at Dexter Airport at a cost of $50,000 to 60,000.

"There's no doubt they will pay for themselves," he said, and that all the present hangars are in use with a waiting list.

The council took no action Monday night.

Fire truck body purchased okayed

DEXTER — Purchase of a fire truck body from Ozark Fire Co. of Springfield at a cost of $38,433 was approved Monday night by the City Council at the recommendation of Firechief Al Banken.

The only other bid submitted was by John Bean Co. of Tipton, Ind. for $38,748. When bids were opened in November, Banken was asked to study them and make his recommendation.

He told the council Monday night that the bids were not as close as they first appeared.

The Ozark bid included equipment other than the body itself, such as hoses and nozzles, but the Bean bid did not. Cost of the of the extra equipment would amount to almost $9,000.

The council also approved the purchase of communication equipment for the fire department.

Total cost of the new truck, including the body, a chassis from City Motor Sales of Dexter and the communication equipment will be about $57,000.

Banken told the council he will personally see to it that the equipment is delivered to the city.

The council decided to give each city employe a Christmas bonus of $25 and to cover the parking meters in the city before Christmas.

The meters will be covered starting Tuesday at the request of city merchants. Mayor Willis Conner said this has become a tradition in the city.

Lawrence Reeves, the meter reader during this time, has been assigned by Chief James Teeters to patrol the stores in town.

Teeters said Reeves will be in and out of the stores and on the streets as a deterrent to crime during the Christmas season.

At the recommendation of the state highway department the city passed an ordinance to forbid parking on both sides of business Highway 60 and along a two-block area from Mulberry to Locust streets.

The department told the city in a letter that it will pay the costs of putting up the no parking signs.

Alderman Jack Smarr, chairman of the insurance committee, told the council that the committee has studied bids for insurance for the city and requested a meeting with city employe to explain the pros and cons of each.

At Smarr's recommendation, the council passed a resolution to adopt the program recommended by the committee based on the wishes of the majority of city employes.

A meeting with the employes was set at 6 p.m. Friday in the city administration building.

In other business Conner told the council that new hangars are needed at Dexter Airport at a cost of $50,000 to 60,000.

"There's no doubt they will pay for themselves," he said, and that all the present hangars are in use with a waiting list.

The council took no action Monday night.

Dr. Lamb

Kidney disease isn't understood

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am trying to find out as much as I can about the kidney disease, myoglobinuria. I have been told by my doctor that I have it.

I had my first attack in 1960 with discolored urine and exhaustion when physical exertion was involved. A day or two of rest would clear the urine. I've had at least eight attacks since then. Since 1970, though, I have felt "done in" even after getting a good night's sleep.

I'm 45 and weigh 145 pounds and have had a very active life, bowling, baseball, football, track, basketball and swimming. I can't do any of these now for fear of an attack.

Will my children have this? What about my brothers and sisters and their children? Will dialysis help? I had another attack last Saturday after washing and waxing my car. My doctor says rest and no physical exertion.

DEAR READER — You have a very rare disease, and there are a lot of facets of it that are not completely understood. That is why you can't get the answer you want.

Actually, you do not have a kidney disease. The defect is in relation to your muscles. All of us have a substance in our muscles called myoglobin. It is much like hemoglobin in the red cells of your blood except that it is a smaller molecule. And, it has largely the same purpose, to combine with oxygen. This is one way your muscle cells store oxygen so it will be immediately available for any muscle work without waiting for a supply of oxygen from the circulation.

Your energy comes from the use of oxygen to break down food products to release the energy they contain. Without oxygen in the cells, regardless of your diet, you will not be able to use food energy. If a person has an iron deficiency the myoglobin as well as hemoglobin in the red blood cells can be affected.

The usual form of myoglobinuria results from injury to the muscles. This can even happen if a person is trapped under falling debris in a collapsing building. It happens more often from unusually vigorous physical exertion. Military physicians see it in troops after a long march if they have not been trained to tolerate that much activity.

The injured muscles are sore and release myoglobin. The myoglobin is eliminated in the urine, giving it a red or brownish color. The swollen and sore muscles involved, plus the discolored urine, are a pretty good indication of the nature of the problem. Special tests of the urine and blood establish that the substance is myoglobin.

There are some cases where the problem has occurred in family members, but this is the rarest of the types seen.

What's the law?

The case of the constant loser style

By JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

Norton wore the forlorned expresson of a crap shooter who could throw nothing but "box cars." After years of high living and spending money like it was going out of style, he suddenly found himself completely broke.

With creditors all but popping out of the woodwork, he finally consulted an attorney and filed a petition in bankruptcy to cancel out his debts. In doing so, he listed his assets as being a few pairs of holely socks and his occupation as "salesman."

"That's a lot of hogwash - Norton's no salesman," protested several creditors opposing the bankruptcy. "If Norton was a salesman, it couldn't have been more than a hobby with him. His real occupation was gambling. He spent more time at the track than the horses. Anyone who would do that shouldn't be allowed to cop out in bankruptcy."

"So I bet on the horses," responded Norton. "What's the big deal.. Doesn't everybody.. The truble is that if a rich guy bets on the horses, he's considered a sport. If a poor man does, he's considered a bum. Certainly, that kind of double standard should prevent me from going into bankruptcy."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit horsey Norton to wipe out his debts in bankruptcy..

This is how the judge ruled: YES. The judge held that even if a person's chief ocupation is gambling that, in and of itself, would not bar his discharge in bankruptcy.

Based upon a 1962 United States Court of Appeals Decision.

Dr. Lamb

Kidney disease isn't understood

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am trying to find out as much as I can about the kidney disease, myoglobinuria. I have been told by my doctor that I have it.

I had my first attack in 1960 with discolored urine and exhaustion when physical exertion was involved. A day or two of rest would clear the urine. I've had at least eight attacks since then. Since 1970, though, I have felt "done in" even after getting a good night's sleep.

I'm 45 and weigh 145 pounds and have had a very active life, bowling, baseball, football, track, basketball and swimming. I can't do any of these now for fear of an attack.

Will my children have this? What about my brothers and sisters and their children? Will dialysis help? I had another attack last Saturday after washing and waxing my car. My doctor says rest and no physical exertion.

DEAR READER — You have a very rare disease, and there are a lot of facets of it that are not completely understood. That is why you can't get the answer you want.

Actually, you do not have a kidney disease. The defect is in relation to your muscles. All of us have a substance in our muscles called myoglobin. It is much like hemoglobin in the red cells of your blood except that it is a smaller molecule. And, it has largely the same purpose, to combine with oxygen. This is one way your muscle cells store oxygen so it will be immediately available for any muscle work without waiting for a supply of oxygen from the circulation.

Your energy comes from the use of oxygen to break down food products to release the energy they contain. Without oxygen in the cells, regardless of your diet, you will not be able to use food energy. If a person has an iron deficiency the myoglobin as well as hemoglobin in the red blood cells can be affected.

The usual form of myoglobinuria results from injury to the muscles. This can even happen if a person is trapped under falling debris in a collapsing building. It happens more often from unusually vigorous physical exertion. Military physicians see it in troops after a long march if they have not been trained to tolerate that much activity.

The injured muscles are sore and release myoglobin. The myoglobin is eliminated in the urine, giving it a red or brownish color. The swollen and sore muscles involved, plus the discolored urine, are a pretty good indication of the nature of the problem. Special tests of the urine and blood establish that the substance is myoglobin.

There are some cases where the problem has occurred in family members, but this is the rarest of the types seen.

What's the law?

The case of the constant loser style

By JACK STRAUSS, LL.B.

Norton wore the forlorned expresson of a crap shooter who could throw nothing but "box cars." After years of high living and spending money like it was going out of style, he suddenly found himself completely broke.

With creditors all but popping out of the woodwork, he finally consulted an attorney and filed a petition in bankruptcy to cancel out his debts. In doing so, he listed his assets as being a few pairs of holely socks and his occupation as "salesman."

"That's a lot of hogwash - Norton's no salesman," protested several creditors opposing the bankruptcy. "If Norton was a salesman, it couldn't have been more than a hobby with him. His real occupation was gambling. He spent more time at the track than the horses. Anyone who would do that shouldn't be allowed to cop out in bankruptcy."

"So I bet on the horses," responded Norton. "What's the big deal.. Doesn't everybody.. The truble is that if a rich guy bets on the horses, he's considered a sport. If a poor man does, he's considered a bum. Certainly, that kind of double standard should prevent me from going into bankruptcy."

IF YOU WERE THE JUDGE, would you permit horsey Norton to wipe out his debts in bankruptcy..

This is how the judge ruled: YES. The judge held that even if a person's chief ocupation is gambling that, in and of itself, would not bar his discharge in bankruptcy.

Based upon a 1962 United States Court of Appeals Decision.

Being considered are sanitary sewers for the Billy Goat Hill section of town, sanitary sewer improvements north of Riley Street, paving and drainage of North Kingshighway and parking and sidewalk improvements. An amendment to the solid waste and refuse disposal ordinance was approved, which permits the council to set the collection fee on an annual basis. The original fee when the ordinance was first enacted in 1974 set the residential rate at $2.25 per household. The rate was increased to $3.10 when the contract for collection was renewed in September.

The council agreed to assist the auxiliary police in submitting a request through the Bootheel Law Enforcement Council for funds to purchase six walkie-talkie radios for use by the auxiliary unit.

Dexter to hold public hearing on HUD grant

DEXTER — Public hearings to discuss what $400,000 should be used for if a grant is approved are scheduled at 7 p.m. today and Wednesday at the city administrative building.

The money is part of $4 million available to the eastern half of Missouri through the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

If the grants are approved, the City Council will have the final decision on how the money will be used, but public hearings are required by law.

The council decided in November to use the money to renovate the city's old water plant.

Youth held in connection with break-in

CHARLESTON--A 15-year old boy is being held in Mississippi County jail on a charge of burglary and stealing in connection with a break-in discovered Sunday night at the Burnett Bigham home on Route Three.

Deputy Sheriff Robert Smith said the youth was taken into custody Monday and turned over to juvenile authorities.

A stereo-radio component system, valued at $175, taken from the home while the family was gone overnight, was recovered.

Smith said the youth used a bar to pry open a back door.

Dexter's Mark Guethle has to go to his knees to retrieve a rebound and passes the ball off to a teammate in action against the Lilbourn Panthers in the Sikeston Invitational tournament Monday night. The Panthers struggled past the unseeded Bearcats 66-55 for their 47th consecutive victory. Don Treadwell (30) eyes Guethle's pass.

Sloppy play marks opening night of SHS tournament

The North stands below the Sikeston press box were filled with coaching names good enough to fill a Who's Who of SEMO basketball, but the respected leaders of the district's top teams had to be disappointed. They were treated to one near upset by the hustling, but erratic, Dexter Bearcats. But, most of the activity shown to the good sized crowd was undisciplined, with turnovers and poor shooting the rule. Only Malden, in the opener against Poplar Bluff, fell from the seeded ranks. A strong second half gave the Mules a 58-45 victory. The only impressive shooting of the night was by Charleston during a 73-45 romp over New Madrid. And, in the nightcap, Lilbourn narrowly held off scrappy Dexter 66-55. That game was a lot closer than the story told by the scoreboard.

SECOND HALF GOOD FOR MULES

Dale Hinton isn't the most graceful player in southeast Missouri basketball circles, but the 6-foot-4 Mule center scored 18 points to lead a big Poplar Bluff second half surge during a 58-45 mild upset of fourth-seeded Malden.

Dennis Duncan added 16 to Hinton's efforts, to help the Mules overcome first-game jitters and a 26-22 Greenwave lead at half. Both teams were extremely slow and shot poorly during an 8-6 Malden first quarter. By the time the third quarter rolled around, both were bombing the nets with more regularity, but the smaller Mules slowly pulled away.

Leading by five entering the last quarter, Poplar Bluff poured it on 17-9 for the season-opening victory and the right (or privilege?) to face the number one seeded Lilbourn Panthers at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night.

Six-foot-6 center Robert Blackman had 14 points in a losing cause for the Wave. They take a 1-1 record into the six o'clock Tuesday game with Dexter.

JAYS ROMP AGAIN

The Charleston offense and defense were once again in high gear during a 73-45 runaway over New Madrid. The diminutive Indians, who put nary a player on the court above the six foot mark, caved in to the heavily-favored Jays in the first quarter. Charleston ran up a 20-3 lead and never was threatened the rest of the way. Although New Madrid did play Charleston even in the second and fourth quarters, the statistic is misleading, because coach Mitch Haskins substituted freely throughout the game.

Michael Smith's 20 points led the Bluejay offensive. Percy Owens scored 19 and Ricky Frazier scored a dozen points, along with countless assists and rebounds.

Although the Indians seemed to fold before the Bluejay reputation and height, 5-foot-9 guard Ralph Tucker played a good floor game. The senior picked off errant passes, stole careless dribbles and controlled the New Madrid offense, while marking up 11 points. He trailed teammate Richard St. Mary by a single point in the scoring column.

Charleston had more than five inches per man in height advantage and used it to control the boards completely. The score at half was 33-16 after an even second quarter. But, the Jays ripped it even farther open in the third and bounded into the semi-finals against the winner of Tuesday's Sikeston-East Prairie nine o'clock game. New Madrid plays the loser of that contest.

ALMOST, BUT NOT QUITE.

Lilbourn's winning streak was almost ended by a bunch of hard-fighting, gutty Dexter Bearcats who wouldn't give up, but Panther poise and terrible Dexter passing eventually spelled defeat for coach Jim Hall's troops. With less than two minutes left, Dexter trailed by just three 54-51, but a late flurry of Bearcat floor mistakes and Frankie Robinson steals spelled win number 47 in a row, with the final score of 66-55.

Robinson scored 28 points, despite having an ice cold shooting night from the outside. It was his late steals and a couple final-minute baskets by Ronnie Baker that gave Lilbourn the win after Dexter had led almost all game. Baker finished with 17.

Richard Eaton marked up 18 points, mostly on the front end of fast breaks. With Lilbourn spending most of the night in a fullcourt press, Easton was able to shake free under the basket on several occasions, to help DHS cling to their always precarious lead. Outcourt shooting by Greg Miller accounted for 17 points.

Lilbourn, as much as a 20-point favorite in some corners before the game, never led by more than three until late in the third period. After trailing 25-24 at half, the Panthers surged to a 45-39 lead entering the last quarter, then held off repeated surges by the fighting Bearcats. Dexter showed little ballhandling, average outcourt shooting and downright terrible passing, but they gang-tackled every free ball and nearly hustled the Panthers, who seemed more determined to look cool than good, into the year's biggest upset.

Eventually the mistakes did Dexter in and doomed them to a loser's bracket matchup with Malden. Lilbourn opposed Poplar Bluff, just before the Sikeston-East Prairie game.

Favorites win at Lutesville

LUTESVILLE----The favorites had no trouble getting past the first round of action in the Woodland invitational tournament here Monday night as the second seeded Delta Bobcats popped Greenville 75-41 and fourth seeded Woodland whopped Meadow Heights 71-55.

Coach Paul Hale's Bobcats used their pressure defense to run up a 17-9 first period edge against the Bears but fell back and let Greenville come to within four, 29-23 at the half before coming on so strong in the second half that the Bears were only able to score 16 points in the last two periods. Delta popped in 35 fieldgoals to 14 for Greenville. Guard Nate Crowden scored 27 points in the game with 18 coming in the big second half for Delta. The Bobcats were called for 32 personal fouls in the game.

A big third period propelled Woodland past Meadow Heights as the Panthers stayed close throughout the first half. Woodland used a balanced scoring attack as four players hit in double figures in the game.

Tuesday night's first round will be completed with first seeded Notre Dame playing Zalma at 6:30 and third seeded Advance playing Oak Ridge at 8:00.

ROME (AP) — American author Robert Katz, film producer Carlo Ponti and director George Pan Cosmatos have been convicted of defaming Pope Pius XII in a book and film about the 1944 Nazi slaying of 335 civilians in Rome.

Brooklyn-born Katz received a 14-month prison sentence, and Ponti and Cosmatos seven months each. The sentences were suspended.

The criminal libel charges were filed by Countess Eleonora Rossignani, a niece of the late pope who disputed a conclusions of Katz's book, "Death in Rome," and the film based on it, "Massacre in Rome," that Pius did not do all he could to prevent the slaying.

Katz, saying he was "extremely disappointed" by the decision, said he would apppeal the conviction.

By the time the third quarter rolled around, both were bombing the nets with more regularity, but the smaller Mules slowly pulled away.

Leading by five entering the last quarter, Poplar Bluff poured it on 17-9 for the season-opening victory and the right (or privilege?) to face the number one seeded Lilbourn Panthers at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday night.

Six-foot-6 center Robert Blackman had 14 points in a losing cause for the Wave. They take a 1-1 record into the six o'clock Tuesday game with Dexter.

JAYS ROMP AGAIN

The Charleston offense and defense were once again in high gear during a 73-45 runaway over New Madrid. The diminutive Indians, who put nary a player on the court above the six foot mark, caved in to the heavily-favored Jays in the first quarter. Charleston ran up a 20-3 lead and never was threatened the rest of the way. Although New Madrid did play Charleston even in the second and fourth quarters, the statistic is misleading, because coach Mitch Haskins substituted freely throughout the game.

Michael Smith's 20 points led the Bluejay offensive. Percy Owens scored 19 and Ricky Frazier scored a dozen points, along with countless assists and rebounds.

Although the Indians seemed to fold before the Bluejay reputation and height, 5-foot-9 guard Ralph Tucker played a good floor game. The senior picked off errant passes, stole careless dribbles and controlled the New Madrid offense, while marking up 11 points. He trailed teammate Richard St. Mary by a single point in the scoring column.

Charleston had more than five inches per man in height advantage and used it to control the boards completely. The score at half was 33-16 after an even second quarter. But, the Jays ripped it even farther open in the third and bounded into the semi-finals against the winner of Tuesday's Sikeston-East Prairie nine o'clock game. New Madrid plays the loser of that contest.

ALMOST, BUT NOT QUITE.

Lilbourn's winning streak was almost ended by a bunch of hard-fighting, gutty Dexter Bearcats who wouldn't give up, but Panther poise and terrible Dexter passing eventually spelled defeat for coach Jim Hall's troops. With less than two minutes left, Dexter trailed by just three 54-51, but a late flurry of Bearcat floor mistakes and Frankie Robinson steals spelled win number 47 in a row, with the final score of 66-55.

Robinson scored 28 points, despite having an ice cold shooting night from the outside. It was his late steals and a couple final-minute baskets by Ronnie Baker that gave Lilbourn the win after Dexter had led almost all game. Baker finished with 17.

Richard Eaton marked up 18 points, mostly on the front end of fast breaks. With Lilbourn spending most of the night in a fullcourt press, Easton was able to shake free under the basket on several occasions, to help DHS cling to their always precarious lead. Outcourt shooting by Greg Miller accounted for 17 points.

Lilbourn, as much as a 20-point favorite in some corners before the game, never led by more than three until late in the third period. After trailing 25-24 at half, the Panthers surged to a 45-39 lead entering the last quarter, then held off repeated surges by the fighting Bearcats. Dexter showed little ballhandling, average outcourt shooting and downright terrible passing, but they gang-tackled every free ball and nearly hustled the Panthers, who seemed more determined to look cool than good, into the year's biggest upset.

Eventually the mistakes did Dexter in and doomed them to a loser's bracket matchup with Malden. Lilbourn opposed Poplar Bluff, just before the Sikeston-East Prairie game.

Favorites win at Lutesville

LUTESVILLE----The favorites had no trouble getting past the first round of action in the Woodland invitational tournament here Monday night as the second seeded Delta Bobcats popped Greenville 75-41 and fourth seeded Woodland whopped Meadow Heights 71-55.

Coach Paul Hale's Bobcats used their pressure defense to run up a 17-9 first period edge against the Bears but fell back and let Greenville come to within four, 29-23 at the half before coming on so strong in the second half that the Bears were only able to score 16 points in the last two periods. Delta popped in 35 fieldgoals to 14 for Greenville. Guard Nate Crowden scored 27 points in the game with 18 coming in the big second half for Delta. The Bobcats were called for 32 personal fouls in the game.

A big third period propelled Woodland past Meadow Heights as the Panthers stayed close throughout the first half. Woodland used a balanced scoring attack as four players hit in double figures in the game.

Tuesday night's first round will be completed with first seeded Notre Dame playing Zalma at 6:30 and third seeded Advance playing Oak Ridge at 8:00.

ROME (AP) — American author Robert Katz, film producer Carlo Ponti and director George Pan Cosmatos have been convicted of defaming Pope Pius XII in a book and film about the 1944 Nazi slaying of 335 civilians in Rome.

Brooklyn-born Katz received a 14-month prison sentence, and Ponti and Cosmatos seven months each. The sentences were suspended.

The criminal libel charges were filed by Countess Eleonora Rossignani, a niece of the late pope who disputed a conclusions of Katz's book, "Death in Rome," and the film based on it, "Massacre in Rome," that Pius did not do all he could to prevent the slaying.

Katz, saying he was "extremely disappointed" by the decision, said he would apppeal the conviction.

Mules nip Risco in OT

BERNIE — The Last-Minute Mules of Bernie were up to their eleventh hour tricks again last night. The fourth- seeded team advanced to the semifinals of their own invitational tournament, but had to go into overtime against Risco before winning, 69-68. The Mules have already had a pair of one-point decisions and another two-point contest in their three previous games.

In the other opening round game, top-seeded Puxico scalped Parma 91-71.

Risco's Kellick scored 41 of his team's points, but the duo of Steve Ward and Kevin Sides for Bernie was enough to offset Kellick's one-man show. Ward fired in 23 points while Sides flipped home 21 more.

The final score was indicative of the way the game progressed. Neither team could gain much of a lead, and Bernie held a slim three-point margin after three periods of play. But the Tigers bounced back in the fourth period to scored 22 and send the game into overtime. The extra three-minute period was also close until Kevin Sides scored with eight seconds to go to give his team a three point lead. Risco scored before the buzzer to account for the final one-point margin.

In the second game, senior Tim Hancock and sophomore Morgan Sifford were the big guns for Puxico as they dumped Parma. Hancock blistered the nets for 32 points, and Sifford connected for 20 markers.

First - round play in the Bernie Invitational concludes tonight as Bloomfield meets Gideon at 7:00 and Clarkton takes on Holcomb at 8:30.

SHS wrestlers beat Bluff Mules

POPLAR BLUFF — The Sikeston Bulldog wrestling team got the 1975-76 season started on the right foot Monday evening by downing Poplar Bluff 48-9.

It was not as overpowering a performance as might have been expected from the Bulldogs, who lost only two wrestlers from last year's squad. Some had hoped for and expected a shutout against the weaker Mules. But coach John Heacox was satisfied with the way his team performed in their season opener.

"We made a lot of mistakes, but they are certainly mistakes that can be corrected," said Heacox. The Sikeston coach added that most of his wrestlers are competing in a heavier weight class than they should be. And some of the SHS athletes who would have started didn't because they still haven't gotten down to their weight divisions.

The Bulldogs will be competing in the Fox Tournament at Arnold this Friday and Saturday. That trournament will be an early test for Sikeston, since six St. Louis wrestling powers are entered.

The results:

98--Joe Blanton (S) won by forfiet.

105--Dan Bridger (S) defeated Guerrero (PB) 6-2.

112--Ken Hotchkiss (S) pinned Mety (PB) in first period.

119--Harold Myrick (S) pinned Eubanks (PB) in third period.

126--Tony DeLaRosa (S) defeated Herzog (PB) 4-0.

132--Scott Hutchison (S) pinned Prewitt (PB) in second period.

138--Dave Hammon (S) lost to Roberts (PB) 4-0.

145--Bill Paxton (S) pinned Dioriro (PB) in second period.

155--Mark Silverthorn (S) pinned Arms (PB) in second period.

167--Linzie Lambert (S) pinned Robertson (PB) in first period.

185--Loomis Mayfield (S) lost to Warren (PB) 9-6.

HW--Overbey (S) lost to Ferguson (PB) 10-0.

Well, will surprises never cease? I can't seem to put things together yet. But just because there were a few upsets the past week doesn't mean that I'm going to quit that easily. I came over .500 with six right and five wrong.

We're going to miss Monday's schedule but will pick up with Tuesday's schedule and go from there each night instead of predicting for the whole week.

Oran tournament -- Scott Central vs Leopold ---- If I were Ronnie Cookson I would send my boys out to play and I'd stay home and catch the score on the late news --- Braves 100 at least, Leopold maybe 30.

Matthews vs. Bell City ---- I'm going to pick Matthews. The Pirates scored 75 against Scott Central last week so they can shoot ---- 75-60.

Woodland tournament ---Notre Dame vs Zalma --- The Bulldogs will win easily, but not Zalma's ---- 75-50.

Advance vs Oak Ridge --- Carroll Cookson is still trying to get the "Big Orange Machine" repaired before the season begins in March. Oak Ridge will be easy pickins for the Hornets ---- 65-50.

Bernie tournament --- Bloomfield vs Gideon --- The Wildcats aren't playing very consistent ball but should get by Gideon easily-- 80-50.

Clarkton vs Holcomb ---- I know nothing abut either team so I'll guess that the HOrnets will win --- 70-66.

Sikeston tournament --- Lilbourn vs Poplar Bluff. The Panthers have been looking to the Charleston Bluejays since last Friday night but have too much for the Mules --- 70 -50.

Dexter vs Malden ---- Dexter played their first game against the Panthers and came close but Malden looked disorganized so the Bearcats are my favorite in this one --- 65-50.

Sikeston vs East Prairie --- The Bulldogs are too powerful for the short Eagles in this one ---- 90-50.

Untested Bulldogs open cage season tonight vs. Eagles

By DALE FORBIS

'We'll just have to do better," is East Prairie coach Dave McMahon's continuing theme when he discusses his team's efforts during a 68-52 loss to Hayti last week and a Tuesday night encounter with the big, but untested Sikeston Bulldogs.

McMahon cites poor shooting, way too many turnovers and not nearly enough rebounds as basic factors in a season- opening loss.

"We just have to erase those mistakes and improve. I said when I came here (from North Pemiscot) we'd be respectable," McMahon goes on, "I hope we will be."

McMahon has some experience and some shooting to build with. Senior guard Grady Williford, after a busy football season, traded gridiron cleats for basketball shoes and made the transition a smooth one. After averaging in the mid-teens as a junior, Williford opened this season with 17.

Danny Johnson averaged near ten last year and opened with 16 points. Johnson is a six foot, junior forward who pairs with 6-2 Steve Carter on the frontline. Carter is a first-year starter.

Benny Bradley and Williford give McMahon a pair of returning starters at guard. Bradley is a 5-foot-9 senior who scored just six in the opener.

Steve Shipman gives East Prairie size in the post. But, the 6-foot-5 junior lacks strength and scored just four in his first starting assignment.

"Buddy Spears is my wife's cousin," said McMahon about the SHS coach, "So he shouldn't have many secrets. I know they're supposed to be big."

McMahon went on, "It will be a tough game. We sure don't want a runaway like teams have been getting against Charleston."

"I've read that they are big..."

And, the Bulldogs are big. Only one Sikeston starter is listed below six feet tall and that is guard Harold Dockins. But, there is just one returning starter from last year's 15-13 team. Six-foot-4 forward Marc Eaves averaged 14.6 a year ago and is looked to for some scoring. Eaves hit nearly 55 per cent from the floor during the season past.

Guards Ed Nunnelee and Dockins played extensively as juniors. Both averaged less than five points per contest, but both are capable of handling the ball and passing. It just remains to be seen if they can handle first string competition.

A pair of frontliners, Paul "Bird" Gilbow and Alonzo Harris, give size to the Bulldogs. Gilbow averaged 14 points and 16 rebounds as a jayvee performer. Harris, stocky and strong at 6-3 and 190 pounds, has been effective in practices after also averaging about 13 a game on the junior varsity unit. All three of the big men move well.

For the second season in a row Sikeston seems to have a strong bench and seems to be able to field a strong starting unit. With a game with Charleston looming on the horizon, it would be so simple to overlook the Eagles. All the "we could" and "seems like" of the pre-season predictors during the SHS practice sessions will get a chance to be proven, but only if, and when, they dispose of East Prairie.

According to Dave McMahon, it's "too early" to tell right now how tough a team is. We hope it's not "to early" for Sikeston to show how tough they are.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Len Kosmalski, a 7-foot center selected by the Kansas City Kings in the second round of the 1974 college draft, and guard Mike D'Antoni, 6-3, in his third year with the National Basketball Association team, were placed on waivers.

Both had been used only infrequently by the Kings this year.

Kansas City now has 10 players on its roster, two below the limit. Guard Lee Winfield, on the injured list with Achilles tendon problems, is expected to return to action next week.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bulls, ending several days of speculation, have traded reserve center Nate Thurmond and his $350,000 salary to the Cleveland Cavaliers.

Bulls' reserve forward Rowland Garrett also is going to Cleveland, a spokesman for the National Basketball Association team said Thursday. In return, Cavaliers' center Steve Patterson and rookie forward Eric Fernsten will come to Chicago.

In other developments, the Bulls obtained veteran forward Jack Marin from the Buffalo Braves for "future considerations," and guard Jerry Sloan was placed on the injured reserve list, which means he will miss at least five games.

Thurmond, 34, came to the Bulls last year from the Golden State Warriors. The 6-foot-11, 13-year veteran started only a few games before being replaced by Tom Boerwinkle. As a member of the Warriors, Thurmond was named to the NBA all-star team seven times.

He failed to show for Chicago's Tuesday night game against Cleveland and missed Wednesday's team practice. He was fined 1-82nd of his salary for missing the game — the NBA plays an 82-game schedule — and $100 for missing practice.

Thurmond has said the Bulls' front office was making him "a scapegoat" for the team's dismal start this season, and Wednesday he told the club he wanted to be traded.

With a 3-11 record, Chicago is at the bottom of the league.

I would like to thank all of you who have complimented me on the column and I would like to say how much I appreciate the sports editor for making sure the column gets in on the same day. So much for the 'thank you' department. I hope everyone had a big Thanksgiving as I did and now needs to bowl off that "extra pound" from eating too much turkey. Willie Burrow sure had a lot to be thankful for as she went wild Tuesday night. She had the high game and high series of the week with a super 585-235. Would you believe that she just found that she is under the weather. I could be so sick!

TUESDAY MORNING HOUSEWIVES

Linda Keen had the only 200 game with a 201 and Willie Burrow had the high series (I guess she was warming up) with a 511 and Norma Johnson had the other 500 series with a 508. OFMCO had the high team game with a 1010 and McMullin Construction had the high team series with a 2890. Team scores: OFMCO 3-Moore's Ace Hardware 1, 1st National 3-Grecian Steak House 1, El Capri 3- Bank of Sikeston 1, McMullin Construction 3-Security National Bank 1, A & B Leasing 4-Garden Lane Nursery 0, Sikeston Motor Co 4- Holiday Inn 0, J Jay's Fashions 4-Coleman's BBQ 0, House of Carpets 4-Harts Fabricks 0. Splits picked up: Emma Doster 5-6-10, Dorothy Jobe 5-10, Dorothy Clinton 2-7, Judy Hines 3-10, 4-5, Lynn Thornton 4-6-10, Wahnita Kassing 4-7-9, Deveda Hamra 6-7, 3-10, Cherry Sanders 3-7-10, Carol Gilmore 5-7, Juanita Harrison 3-9-10, Evelyn Agnew 3-10, Betty Leible 3-10, Nora Springs 3-10, 5-6, Barbara Turnbo 9-10, 4-9-7.

DELTA IMPERIALETTES

This was Willie's night as she had her big 586-235! She wasn't the only one bowling big that night as we had quite a few big series and games. Mary Meyer had a 572 and that "ain't easy" just second best! Other series and games are Betty Hughes 550-208, Barbara Dock 532-221, Kathy Etienne 530, Linda Manley 502, Jean Lee 515-202, Anice Baker 537, Sharon Roberts 205. Team scores: Docks 3- Eagles 1, Peoples Bank 1-Marks 3, Quandrant 0-Frances 4, Dye's 0-Barketts 4, Sambo's 0-Harts 4, Imperial Resaurant 4-Prudential 0. High team game was rolled by Frances with a 1056 and high team series by Frances with a 2958. Splits – Anita Ziegeler 3-10, Kathy Etienne 5-6-10, Deveda Hamra 3-10, Debbie Boardman 5-7, Mildred Chartrau 5-7, Gail Jones 4-5-7, 4-5, Billie Garner 3-10, Anice Baker 2-7, Sondra Alliston 5-10, Nora Springs 2-8-7, Marie Lester 5-10, and Carol Towe 4-5.

FRIDAY BOWLETTES

Claudine Sullivan had the big of the night with a 524 which is really good because she is like me in that she doesn't carry that high of an average. Jackie Brown has the high game with a 201. Salon of Beauty had the high game and high series with a 1109 (wow) and a 3101. Team scores – Bank of Sikeston 4- Bill's Small Engines 0, Scotty's Truck Stop 0- Sloans Auto Machine Shop 4, Alcorn Real Estate 3- National Lock No. 1 1, Alfred Werber 3- Medalist Sikeston 1, Salon of Beauty 4- National Lock No. 2 0, Sikeston IGA 3-Mercer Auto Repair 1. Splits -- Doris Abernathy 4-7-6-10 (if that reported that correctly that is the big four and congratulations are in order), Mildred Cockrell 5-10 (twice).

I would like to add that my husband bowled his first 600 series with a 634 last Saturday and I was really thrilled for him. He has had to be out of town during the week all fall and has had to miss bowling with his team on Tuesday night which he really misses.

Til next Tuesday!

Clarkton vs Holcomb ---- I know nothing abut either team so I'll guess that the HOrnets will win --- 70-66.

Sikeston tournament --- Lilbourn vs Poplar Bluff. The Panthers have been looking to the Charleston Bluejays since last Friday night but have too much for the Mules --- 70-50.

Dexter vs Malden ---- Dexter played their first game against the Panthers and came close but Malden looked disorganized so the Bearcats are my favorite in this one --- 65-50.

Sikeston vs East Prairie --- The Bulldogs are too powerful for the short Eagles in this one ---90-50.

Untested Bulldogs open cage season tonight vs. Eagles

By DALE FORBIS

'We'll just have to do better," is East Prairie coach Dave McMahon's continuing theme when he discusses his team's efforts during a 68-52 loss to Hayti last week and a Tuesday night encounter with the big, but untested Sikeston Bulldogs.

McMahon cites poor shooting, way too many turnovers and not nearly enough rebounds as basic factors in a season- opening loss.

"We just have to erase those mistakes and improve. I said when I came here (from North Pemiscot) we'd be respectable," McMahon goes on, "I hope we will be."

McMahon has some experience and some shooting to build with. Senior guard Grady Williford, after a busy football season, traded gridiron cleats for basketball shoes and made the transition a smooth one. After averaging in the mid-teens as a junior, Williford opened this season with 17.

Danny Johnson averaged near ten last year and opened with 16 points. Johnson is a six foot, junior forward who pairs with 6-2 Steve Carter on the frontline. Carter is a first-year starter.

Benny Bradley and Williford give McMahon a pair of returning starters at guard. Bradley is a 5-foot-9 senior who scored just six in the opener.

Steve Shipman gives East Prairie size in the post. But,the 6-foot-5 junior lacks strength and scored just four in his first starting assignment.

"Buddy Spears is my wife's cousin," said McMahon about the SHS coach, "So he shouldn't have many secrets. I know they're supposed to be big."

McMahon went on, "It will be a tough game. We sure don't want a runaway like teams have been getting against Charleston."

"I've read that they are big..."

And, the Bulldogs are big. Only one Sikeston starter is listed below six feet tall and that is guard Harold Dockins. But, there is just one returning starter from last year's 15-13 team. Six-foot-4 forward Marc Eaves averaged 14.6 a year ago and is looked to for some scoring. Eaves hit nearly 55 per cent from the floor during the season past.

Guards Ed Nunnelee and Dockins played extensively as juniors. Both averaged less than five points per contest, but both are capable of handling the ball and passing. It just remains to be seen if they can handle first string competition.

A pair of frontliners, Paul "Bird" Gilbow and Alonzo Harris, give size to the Bulldogs. Gilbow averaged 14 points and 16 rebounds as a jayvee performer. Harris, stocky and strong at 6-3 and 190 pounds, has been effective in practices after also averaging about 13 a game on the junior varsity unit. All three of the big men move well.

For the second season in a row Sikeston seems to have a strong bench and seems to be able to field a strong starting unit. With a game with Charleston looming on the horizon, it would be so simple to overlook the Eagles. All the "we could" and "seems like" of the pre-season predictors during the SHS practice sessions will get a chance to be proven, but only if, and when, they dispose of East Prairie.

According to Dave McMahon, it's "too early" to tell right now how tough a team is. We hope it's not "to early" for Sikeston to show how tough they are.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Len Kosmalski, a 7-foot center selected by the Kansas City Kings in the second round of the 1974 college draft, and guard Mike D'Antoni, 6-3, in his third year with the National Basketball Association team, were placed on waivers.

Both had been used only infrequently by the Kings this year.

Kansas City now has 10 players on its roster, two below the limit. Guard Lee Winfield, on the injured list with Achilles tendon problems, is expected to return to action next week.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bulls, ending several days of speculation, have traded reserve center Nate Thurmond and his $350,000 salary to the Cleveland Cavaliers.

Bulls' reserve forward Rowland Garrett also is going to Cleveland, a spokesman for the National Basketball Association team said Thursday. In return, Cavaliers' center Steve Patterson and rookie forward Eric Fernsten will come to Chicago.

In other developments, the Bulls obtained veteran forward Jack Marin from the Buffalo Braves for "future considerations," and guard Jerry Sloan was placed on the injured reserve list, which means he will miss at least five games.

Thurmond, 34, came to the Bulls last year from the Golden State Warriors. The 6-foot-11, 13-year veteran started only a few games before being replaced by Tom Boerwinkle. As a member of the Warriors, Thurmond was named to the NBA all-star team seven times.

He failed to show for Chicago's Tuesday night game against Cleveland and missed Wednesday's team practice. He was fined 1-82nd of his salary for missing the game — the NBA plays an 82-game schedule — and $100 for missing practice.

Thurmond has said the Bulls' front office was making him "a scapegoat" for the team's dismal start this season, and Wednesday he told the club he wanted to be traded.

With a 3-11 record, Chicago is at the bottom of the league.

I would like to thank all of you who have complimented me on the column and I would like to say how much I appreciate the sports editor for making sure the column gets in on the same day. So much for the 'thank you' department. I hope everyone had a big Thanksgiving as I did and now needs to bowl off that "extra pound" from eating too much turkey. Willie Burrow sure had a lot to be thankful for as she went wild Tuesday night. She had the high game and high series of the week with a super 585-235. Would you believe that she just found that she is under the weather. I could be so sick!

TUESDAY MORNING HOUSEWIVES

Linda Keen had the only 200 game with a 201 and Willie Burrow had the high series (I guess she was warming up) with a 511 and Norma Johnson had the other 500 series with a 508. OFMCO had the high team game with a 1010 and McMullin Construction had the high team series with a 2890. Team scores: OFMCO 3-Moore's Ace Hardware 1, 1st National 3-Grecian Steak House 1, El Capri 3- Bank of Sikeston 1, McMullin Construction 3-Security National Bank 1, A & B Leasing 4-Garden Lane Nursery 0, Sikeston Motor Co 4- Holiday Inn 0, J Jay's Fashions 4-Coleman's BBQ 0, House of Carpets 4-Harts Fabricks 0. Splits picked up: Emma Doster 5-6-10, Dorothy Jobe 5-10, Dorothy Clinton 2-7, Judy Hines 3-10, 4-5, Lynn Thornton 4-6-10, Wahnita Kassing 4-7-9, Deveda Hamra 6-7, 3-10, Cherry Sanders 3-7-10, Carol Gilmore 5-7, Juanita Harrison 3-9-10, Evelyn Agnew 3-10, Betty Leible 3-10, Nora Springs 3-10, 5-6, Barbara Turnbo 9-10, 4-9-7.

DELTA IMPERIALETTES

This was Willie's night as she had her big 586-235! She wasn't the only one bowling big that night as we had quite a few big series and games. Mary Meyer had a 572 and that "ain't easy" just second best! Other series and games are Betty Hughes 550-208, Barbara Dock 532-221, Kathy Etienne 530, Linda Manley 502, Jean Lee 515-202, Anice Baker 537, Sharon Roberts 205. Team scores: Docks 3- Eagles 1, Peoples Bank 1-Marks 3, Quandrant 0-Frances 4, Dye's 0-Barketts 4, Sambo's 0-Harts 4, Imperial Resaurant 4-Prudential 0. High team game was rolled by Frances with a 1056 and high team series by Frances with a 2958. Splits – Anita Ziegeler 3-10, Kathy Etienne 5-6-10, Deveda Hamra 3-10, Debbie Boardman 5-7, Mildred Chartrau 5-7, Gail Jones 4-5-7, 4-5, Billie Garner 3-10, Anice Baker 2-7, Sondra Alliston 5-10, Nora Springs 2-8-7, Marie Lester 5-10, and Carol Towe 4-5.

FRIDAY BOWLETTES

Claudine Sullivan had the big of the night with a 524 which is really good because she is like me in that she doesn't carry that high of an average. Jackie Brown has the high game with a 201. Salon of Beauty had the high game and high series with a 1109 (wow) and a 3101. Team scores – Bank of Sikeston 4- Bill's Small Engines 0, Scotty's Truck Stop 0- Sloans Auto Machine Shop 4, Alcorn Real Estate 3- National Lock No. 1 1, Alfred Werber 3- Medalist Sikeston 1, Salon of Beauty 4- National Lock No. 2 0, Sikeston IGA 3-Mercer Auto Repair 1. Splits -- Doris Abernathy 4-7-6-10 (if that reported that correctly that is the big four and congratulations are in order), Mildred Cockrell 5-10 (twice).

I would like to add that my husband bowled his first 600 series with a 634 last Saturday and I was really thrilled for him. He has had to be out of town during the week all fall and has had to miss bowling with his team on Tuesday night which he really misses.

Til next Tuesday!

OSU's Archie Griffin is awarded 1975 Heisman Trophy

NEW YORK (AP) — Archie Griffin, Ohio State's small and powerful record-smashing tailback, became the first collegiate football player in history today to win the coveted Heisman Trophy twice.

The award, symbolic of the sport's best player in any given year, was given to Griffin today by the Downtown Athletic Club in recognition of his unequalled accomplishments—over 5,000 yards rushing in a career and 31 consecutive games in which he gained 100 yards or more.

The fourth of seven football-playing sons of James and Margaret Griffin of Columbus, the 5-foot-9, 192-pound tailback won the Heisman for the second consecutive year, succeeding where four players before him had failed.

In 1974, Griffin became the fifth junior to win the honor in the 41-year history of the Heisman. The previous four—Army's Doc Blanchard in 1945, Southern Methodist's Doak Walker in 1948, Ohio State's Vic Janowicz in 1950 and Navy's Roger Staubach in 1963—failed to repeat. Walker was ill part of his senior year, and asked not to be considered.

Griffin finished his storied four-year career at Ohio State with 5,177 rushing yards, the most ever gained by a major college player. The all-time record of 5,297 yards was set by Howard Stevens, who played two years at college division school Randolph-Macon before transfering to Louisville for his final two years.

In 1974, in handily defeating Southern California's Anthony Davis for the Heisman, Griffin led the nation in rushing with 1,620 yards in 236 carries.

This seson his record was not that outstanding, but it was certainly among the best. And that, combined with the publicity that was surrounding his every move, made Griffin the first second-time winner.

Griffin pushed his record string of games with over 100 yards rushing to 31 before he was held to 46 yards in the season finale at Michigan. However, the Buckeyes are top-ranked in the nation and seem certain to win the national championship if they defeat UCLA in the Rose Bowl.

Griffin has maintained throughout the past two years that winning the national title was more important than any individual award.

Griffin finished 1975 with 1,327 yards in 245 rushes, an average of 5.5 yards a carry. His yardage was the sixth highest in the nation, and his average per game of 123.4 yards was seventh best.

Nellie Fox dies

BALTIMORE (AP) — The skin cancer that finally claimed Nellie Fox Monday "had to be incurable — because if it wasn't, Nellie would have beat it," said Jim Lemon, one-time outfielder and manager of the old Washington Senators.

"I knew he was ill, but I didn't know the degree of it," added Lemon, who had Fox as one of his coaches with the Senators.

Fox, of St. Thomas, Pa., entered University Hospital here in mid-October, suffering from widespread skin cancer. He died Monday at the age of 47.

Fox was a scrappy competitor who held down the Chicago White Sox' second base spot from 1950 to 1963.

"I called him yesterday, and the nurse said it wasn't good," said former White Sox pitcher Billy Pierce, a long-time teammate. "The docs had given up hope, but we were still wishing for a miracle.

"We roomed together for 11 years," Pierce continued. "We were close and our families were close. He was a great guy, a great friend and a great player."

Born Jacob Nelson Fox, the 5-foot-9, 160-pounder who became the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1959 "didn't have much natural ability," recalled Al Lopez, who managed the White Sox during 1957-1965.

"He wasn't fast and didn't have an arm, but he worked hard to develop what he needed to make himself a good all-around ballplayer. If you had eight Nellie Foxes, all with his spirit and determination, I think you'd have a winning team."

Fox came up through the Philadelphia A's farm system, then was traded to the White Sox in October 1949. He enjoyed his greatest success with them for 13 years. In 1963 he was traded to Houston in exchange for two players — pitcher Jim Golden and outfielder Danny Murphy — and cash.

St. Louis pledges support of Spirits

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A pledge of community support has apparently staved off an early-season collapse for the Spirits of St. Louis, the American Basketball Association's lowest-ranking team in home attendance.

Spirits president Harry Weltman made the announcement Monday following three days of discussions on possible merger of the ailing franchise with that of the ill-fated Utah Stars.

"I'm delighted and favorably impressed with how civic support was massed behind us," said Weltman, who met late Sunday night with Mayor John H. Poelker.

"It's been my interest to keep the club here through all of this," Weltman added. "They (the city) really moved fast."

A spokesman for Poelker, who was out of the city when Weltman's announcement was made, said the city will undertake a vigorous campaign to support the Spirits.

"We didn't give any guarantees that we could sell tickets of those kind of things," the spokesman said, "but the assurance was that we would work with business leaders, labor leaders and the community as a whole to patronize the team."

Spirits home attendance, including a Sunday night game watched by only 1,399, has averaged only 2,648 this year. Last year the ABA club, the former Carolina Cougars, averaged 4,618.

"I think primarily what convinced the club to stay here is the sincerity of the mayor and his avid interest in keeping a well-rounded sports community active in St. Louis," a spokesman for Poelker said.

Hart's status still uncertain

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The avilability of quarterback Jim Hart for Sunday's St. Louis Cardinals-Dallas Cowboys game remains questionable, the Cards said Monday.

But the 31-year-old Hart, who suffered strained knee ligaments during St. Louis' final offensive play in a 32-14 loss to the Buffalo Bills last Thursday, was able to participate in Monday's practice.

"The doctor has given orders, and we don't want Jimmy doing anything strenuous for a while," Cards operations director Joe Sullivan said.

"Jim says he felt good around the house during the break," Sullivan said in respect to a three-day Cards layoff, "but in the warmth of his home an injury of this type can be misleading." Hart suffered the injury when tackled by Buffalo defensive end Walt Patulski.

"Jimmy was facing a little backward," Sullivan noted. "If Jim had been facing even a little forward, the damage would have been much greater. There would have been no chance for him to play this week."

"It's been my interest to keep the club here through all of this," Weltman added. "They (the city) really moved fast."

A spokesman for Poelker, who was out of the city when Weltman's announcement was made, said the city will undertake a vigorous campaign to support the Spirits.

"We didn't give any guarantees that we could sell tickets of those kind of things," the spokesman said, "but the assurance was that we would work with business leaders, labor leaders and the community as a whole to patronize the team."

Spirits home attendance, including a Sunday night game watched by only 1,399, has averaged only 2,648 this year. Last year the ABA club, the former Carolina Cougars, averaged 4,618.

"I think primarily what convinced the club to stay here is the sincerity of the mayor and his avid interest in keeping a well-rounded sports community active in St. Louis," a spokesman for Poelker said.

Hart's status still uncertain

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The avilability of quarterback Jim Hart for Sunday's St. Louis Cardinals-Dallas Cowboys game remains questionable, the Cards said Monday.

But the 31-year-old Hart, who suffered strained knee ligaments during St. Louis' final offensive play in a 32-14 loss to the Buffalo Bills last Thursday, was able to participate in Monday's practice.

"The doctor has given orders, and we don't want Jimmy doing anything strenuous for a while," Cards operations director Joe Sullivan said.

"Jim says he felt good around the house during the break," Sullivan said in respect to a three-day Cards layoff, "but in the warmth of his home an injury of this type can be misleading." Hart suffered the injury when tackled by Buffalo defensive end Walt Patulski.

"Jimmy was facing a little backward," Sullivan noted. "If Jim had been facing even a little forward, the damage would have been much greater. There would have been no chance for him to play this week."
